'56 Action On Water Brought Up

Referendum Urged To Get Decision

Common Council action reaffirming that taken in 1956 which then advised no fluoridation of Kingston's water supply without due study, public hearing and a referendum, was asked of the Alderman Monday night by Former 12th Ward Alderman John P. Heitzman.

Heitzman, a member of the Pure Water Committee, noted that a resolution sponsored by former Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who was then Third Ward alderman and Richard V. Roth, 12th Ward alderman, asked that since the question of fluoridation had not been "satisfactorily cleared up," that no action be taken by the water department in fluoridating the water.

No Action by Council

The 1956 resolution advised that widespread publicity should also be given the proposal before public hearing and a referendum.

No action was taken on Heitzman's proposal of last night.

"I'm sure that you gentlemen are well aware of the fluoridation controversy that has again started in Kingston. Within the past four weeks, two local service clubs, and various P-TA groups have asked the water board to fluoridate Kingston's water as soon as possible."

"The proponents of fluoridation," he said, "would like to do in Kingston what they have already accomplished in Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. They want to fluoridate our water without giving our people the chance to decide for themselves whether or not they want it."

Says Rights Violated

This, he held, "is not a question of wasting a sizable amount of our tax dollars for some civic project that may or may not benefit the population. These gentlemen are fooling with our health, and we don't intend to be guinea pigs. To force fluoridation on anyone violates the basic rights of freedom of choice."

"When these people are asked to consider a referendum," he held, "they emphatically say, 'No.' They do not feel that the people of Kingston are technically qualified to vote on the issue. We don't want a referendum either, but there are two separate and distinct reasons why each of us are opposed to a referendum. They're afraid of it, because they think they'll get beat. We're opposed to it because we're sure they'll get beat, and the whole thing will be a waste of the taxpayers' dollar. But I'd like to repeat that we're not afraid of giving the people a chance to speak."

Hopeful for 1964

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the Draft Rockefeller for President Club of the Washington Area now is broke, chairman Donald H. Dalton still hopes to work under the Rockefeller banner for the 1964 presidential election.

Dalton, chairman of the club in 1960, wrote Gov. Rockefeller last year about disposal of the group's $17.45 bank account.

The governor's office, apologizing for the delay, suggested this month that Dalton distribute the funds to regular Republican groups in the Washington area.

Fiscal Groups Wind Up Budget Job Today

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's Republican-controlled fiscal committees were completing work today on Gov. Rockefeller's record $2.6-billion budget. They planned to approve it Wednesday or Thursday, barring unexpected delays.

GOP legislative leaders said they anticipated a final vote next week.

The budget vote will clear the way for action on school-aid and other bills involving budget appropriations.

Defendants' Committee recommendations involving a $102.5-million increase in state aid to education were among bills introduced Monday.

The fiscal committees were seeking areas in which to cut state spending before reporting the budget for a vote. But a key Republican legislator said he did not anticipate there would be any major reductions.

The committees traditionally trim budgets submitted by the governor. But the spending figure usually climbs back to the initial total and beyond it as a result of subsequent appropriations to cover unexpected needs.

Rockefeller has recommended increased state spending of $231 million for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

Prospects are the plan for increasing state aid to schools, which involves changes in the distribution formula, will be adopted virtually intact. But a proposal to authorize school districts to join on a countywide basis to levy a sales tax is expected to be shelved.

The feeling expressed by several legislators was that any new tax plans, even voluntary ones, would be politically unwise in an election year.

The body of William Mills Sr., one of three skin divers who lost their lives Sunday afternoon during an underwater mud slide in an abandoned cement mine in Whiteport, was recovered shortly before 10 a. m. today by a close personal friend with the aid of a team composed of Ulster County Skin Diver members.

The bodies of two other divers were recovered Sunday when members of the club pulled in the life line.

William R. Parker, 44 of New Paltz, a charter member of the Skin Divers club, and one familiar with the water hole used for practice dives on many occasions, recovered the body of his buddy after a second dive of about 10 minutes, from 60 to 80 feet of water.

Familiar With Water

Parker was permitted to make an exploratory dive when state police officials learned that he was familiar with the pool and had made exploratory dives there on other occasions.

Parker said he discovered the body of his friend hooked on to portions of a rail track in the old mine shaft. He said quite possibly Mills' equipment fouled on the rail and when the Skin Divers team pulled up the life line on Sunday, Mills' hook broke loose.

Parker, a construction superintendent with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., said the exploratory dive was authorized at 9:30 a. m. and after checking his equipment made the second dive in which he recovered the body.

Members of Team

Members of Ulster County Skin Divers in the recovery team were Darwin (Bud) Boorum of New Paltz, dive master and line tender; Stanley Hasbrouck, also of New Paltz; and Richard Grant of Lake Katrine.

Suited and ready to dive in an emergency were Alfred Douglas of New Paltz, and Fred Schindler of Walden. Although not a member of the club, Schindler was also familiar with the pool and had made exploratory dives there. Also on the team were Wilbur Wiesler of Binnewater, and Edward Muller of Lake Katrine, who acted as timekeeper.

State police divers from Louville stood by in the event of an emergency.

When asked about his decision to make the recovery dive, Parker said, "If I were down there, lost, I'm sure Bill Mills would have done the same thing."

Experience Praised

Parker lauded members of the club and the team in particular, and said the recovery could never have been made had not the club used the water hole for practice dives on many other occasions and were experienced in working as a team.

The club is well-known in the Hudson Valley for its help in many rescue missions and recovery attempts.

Glenns Go Home After Capital Glory Trail

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a long, wet, happy day on the glory trail for John H. Glenn Jr. and his family—a triumphal day of trumpets and thunderous applause and tears of pride.

It didn't end until they were home in suburban Arlington, Va., listening to their neighbors singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Tripoli Council in Agreement

Report Algerian Rebels Favor Pact Ending War

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—The Algerian rebel parliament has accepted a peace agreement with France to end the 7½-year Algerian war, well informed sources said today.

The sources said the National Council for Algerian Revolution, the rebel parliament, met here today to draft an announcement of its acceptance of the accord worked out by French and rebel representatives in secret negotiations in Switzerland.

To Hold Up Word

But the sources said the announcement would not be made public until after the Algerian leaders leave Tripoli.

The rebel council has been discussing the peace agreement for the past five days in Tripoli.

The French government already has approved the agreement, which calls for a cease-fire, a transitional period during which a self-determination referendum will be held in Algeria, and guarantees for the European minority in Algeria, French use of the naval base at Mers-el-Kebir outside Oran, and French interests in the Sahara oil fields.

In preparation for announcement of the agreement and the anticipated violent reaction from die-hard European opponents of Algerian independence, French

Per Capita Aid Hike Is Sought N. Front Travel Up to Committee

Downtown urban renewal may continue immediately advancing toward a first project stage (Broadway East) as the result of Monday night action by the Common Council, which also legislated to open the way in gaining the city more in per capita state aid.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, said he wants it understood that the council's special education committee cannot be blamed for further delays in building a new school on a Hasbrouck Park site, and Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward, as chairman of the railroad and bus committee, said he felt too much had been "given out" before findings or solutions were reached in efforts to solve the city's bus problem.

Smith asked that City Clerk Walter S. Foster be directed to ask Mayor John J. Schwenk by letter for his views on the city's bus problem.

The committee's official report, he said, was that the bus line had not violated its franchise in curtailing service. This, an opinion also of the Public Service Commission, was announced several days ago. The information, which Smith felt had been prematurely released, he noted, came from sources other than the committee, Corporation Council Harry Gold or other officials.

Without Official Notice

Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and Donald E. Quick (D) 10th Ward, indicated that the aldermen are without official notice as to the Kingston City Transportation Corporation's plans to further cut service starting March 4 and asked for one.

Alderman Hastings, traffic control committee chairman, as requested by Mayor Schwenk, said he would call a meeting soon to determine whether a one-way or two-way traffic flow should be maintained on a section of North Front Street.

Mayor Schwenk recently directed that it continue one-way under an existing ordinance. Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, Fire Chief James M. Brett, and up-town merchants are due to meet with the mayor and committee to discuss the problem.

Mayor Schwenk, in a letter to Hastings, said that after a discussion with the latter, he had "given instructions that traffic on North Front Street between Crown and Fair Streets, be returned to a one-way pattern to conform with the ordinance currently in effect. This rescinds the executive order of the former mayor, who reinstituted two-way traffic for a 60-day period, some 10 months ago on April 4, 1961."

Points to Hazards

The mayor said he decided to take such action "while observing the hazardous and almost impossible condition that prevailed at the Kramor's Young Folks Shop fire" on Wall Street Sunday night. The conditions, he said, resulted of "limited room for two-way traffic caused by the unusually heavy snow-fall."

Now that he has exercised an executive duty, he said, he proposes that the legislative branch consider the matter and determine whether traffic should be one-way in accordance with the

Planes Bomb, Strafe Palace

Saigon Attacks Fail, Diem Still in Control

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two South Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers bombed, rocketed and strafed Saigon's presidential palace today in an unsuccessful attempt to kill President Ngo Dinh Diem or members of his family who exert a strong influence on his government.

Two hours after the attack—which left one wing of the independence Palace in smoldering ruins—the 61-year-old anti-Communist president broadcast over Radio Saigon that "thanks to divine protection I myself and my close collaborators were not in danger."

One American died as an indirect result of the attack. The U.S. Embassy said Sidney Ambrose, 59, a contractor who had lived in Portland, Ore., fell from the roof of his apartment as he watched the action and died of his injuries.

The two pilots also strafed the Saigon airfield and the government radio station but apparently did little damage there.

Charge Dictatorship

By his close collaborators Diem meant his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, and Nhu's wife, who acts as first lady for the bachelor president. Critics have repeatedly accused him of running the government as a family dictatorship.

The Nhu lived in the wing of the palace which was bombed on the one side. Also in the palace, the source said, was another brother of Diem, Roman Catholic Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who had come to Saigon from his residence in Hue for medical treatment.

Diem was the target of a short-lived uprising by five paratroop battalions 15 months ago, but today's air attack appeared to be by a few anti-Diem pilots rather than a large-scale plot against the U.S.-supported regime. There was

More School Aid Seems Assured, No Sales-Tax Power Action Indicated

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Legislature is expected to approve a long-awaited program that would add $102.5 million to state aid for schools and revise the method of payment. A related proposal to give sales-tax power to school boards is likely to be bypassed, however.

The recommendations, contained in two bills, were sent to the Legislature Monday night by the Joint Legislative Committee on School Financing, headed by Charles H. Diefendorf of Buffalo and known unofficially as the Diefendorf Committee.

The increased spending and the new formula appeared assured of eventual approval by the Legislature. But the sales-tax plan, which is in a separate bill, was in trouble before the ink was dry, legislative sources reported.

The plan would give each school board within a county one million. Of the increase, $38 million would go to New York City. The existing state-aid formula requires that at least $389 be spent per pupil. The school district raises its share of this amount by a tax of $7 per $1,000 of true valuation. The state pays the balance to reach the $389. In addition, the state provides extra money for various purposes to encourage districts to undertake special programs.

The new formula contains these features:

No district would receive less than $200 per pupil in basic aid, construction and transportation costs.

All districts would receive an increase of at least 5 per cent in state aid in the school year beginning next September.

Aid would be placed on a current-year basis, instead of lagging a year or more behind present attendance.

Wagner Predicts McKeon Will Be Voted Chairman

NEW YORK (AP)—William H. McKeon, a 40-year-old party leader Upstate, is assured of election as Democratic state chairman, Mayor Robert F. Wagner says.

Wagner, who assumed the state leadership of his party after his reelection to a third four-year term last fall, says McKeon has the support of "well over a majority" of the 300-member Democratic State Committee.

There was no immediate comment from State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast. Prendergast, who opposed Wagner's reelection, is on the outs with the Kennedy Administration as well as with the mayor.

The state committee will meet in special session here Thursday to oust Prendergast and elect a successor.

Selection of McKeon was announced by Wagner Monday night after he met with key Democratic leaders in the state at Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence. The leaders, who were said to represent a dozen unanimous in backing McKeon, counties that cast 167 of the 300 committee votes. They were said to speak also for several other counties.

McKeon, an Auburn lawyer and Cayuga County chairman for eight years, said after the meeting that promotion of the 1962 state campaign would begin "the day after my election."

His main task will be organizing his party to fight the reelection bids of Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

McKeon's organization in Cayuga County elected both a sheriff

Report Is Soviet, U.S. to Exchange Filmed Telecasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union are reported to be arranging for an exchange next month of simultaneous filmed telecasts by President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

Informants said Monday the tentative date for the exchange is March 24 or 25. They said each leader would make a 15-minute statement, followed by translation, which would be shown in the other country.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said "there are no present arrangements" for such programs.

Longtime Objective

Other sources, however, said Salinger reached agreement in principle on such a trade with his Soviet counterpart, Mikhail Kharlamov, when the two met in Paris last month.

Presentation of the American viewpoint behind the Iron Curtain, including statements by U. S. leaders, has been a longtime U. S. objective which has met with limited success so far. Kennedy was interviewed last November by Izvestia editor Alexei I. Adzhubel, Khrushchev's son-in-law. The interview was published in the Soviet government newspaper.

Matter Discussed

While the Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange was described as a matter between the White House and the Kremlin, it was understood that details have been discussed at the current State Department talks with a Soviet delegation on renewing the U. S.-Soviet cultural exchange agreement for another two years.

The new cultural agreement, at its present stage of negotiation, was said to provide for appearances of high public figures on radio or television either in person or recorded. The Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange would be taped or filmed.

The general cultural exchange accord for 1962-3, like its predecessor, is expected to cover a broad range of visits between the two countries of performers, scientists, specialists, teachers and students, and a swapping of films and exhibitions.

U. S. authorities expressed hope that the State Department negotiations, under way since Jan. 31, would produce an agreement with the Russians this week.

Glenns Go Home

his wife and mother, Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr., as the Congress, the Cabinet and the black-robed Supreme Court rose to acclaim him. Glenn spoke with poise and easy humor. He introduced his parents, children and wife and they were cheered as they stood in the gallery.

'Where's the Monkey?'

Glenn brought the house down with a humorous reference to Caroline Kennedy, 4, who had asked him earlier, "Where's the monkey?" He said her concern over the chimpanzee astronaut who preceded him into space "really cut us down to size and put us back in the proper position."

Had Serious Words Too

But Glenn had serious words as well. He paid high tribute to his fellow astronauts and the thousands whose tasks backed up the Mercury flight.

"From the original vision of the Congress to consummation of this orbital flight has been just over three years," he said. "This in itself states eloquently the case for the hard work and devotion of the entire Mercury team."

Glenn smiled and shook a hundred hands as he made his way out of the Capitol, down the broad steps and off to a luncheon at the State Department. Excited children of some members got a special grin and a few personal words from the first American to orbit the earth.

Finally it was home again where a noisy homecoming celebration with about 750 persons jammed about the house.

After his family filed into the house, Glenn made a short front-step speech.

"Coming home to you is like coming home to home folks," he said.

But there was no day off today. Glenn had an appointment to appear before a congressional space hearing.

Placed Snow on Road, Mehm Is Fined $15

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, noting several complaints against the practice of property owners throwing sidewalk and driveway snow into city streets, warned that such snow-tossing is a violation and subject to police action.

The practice, he emphasized, is a traffic hazard, and interferes, or cancels out the operations of the city's snow removal forces.

Booked Monday after execution of a warrant by officers Gerald Every and Lewis Keator charging that he had placed "injurious substances" (snow) on a road, was Daniel Mehm, of 54 Henry Street. He was released under $25 bail pending appearance today before City Judge Joseph D. Saccomani who fined him $15 after a plea of guilty.

Virginia Milone Harjes, 20, of Cottage Hill, charged with speeding, was fined $25.

4,462 More Tickets

Poughkeepsie police issued 17,681 parking tickets in 1961, an increase of 4,462 over the 13,219 tickets issued in 1960, according to Police Chief John L. Martin. A total of 7,445 tickets were issued to violators of the parking meter ordinance, 4,040 for parking without lights, and 3,843 for parking in no-parking zones.

Saigon Attack

no move to follow up the air attack on the ground and no reports of rebellion by government forces elsewhere in the country.

Loyal Forces Back Him

Diem said loyal armed forces had the situation completely under control throughout the national territory.

A government radio newscast said one of the attacking planes—identified as A-1H Skyraiders—supplied South Viet Nam's air force by the United States—was shot down near the coast and its officer pilot was captured. Military sources in Saigon said two L-19s of the Viet Nam navy shot the plane down.

Civic Action Minister Ngo Trong Hieu told a news conference the attack was "an isolated action" staged by "two rebel officers" stationed at the big military airfield at Bien Hoa, 20 miles north-east of Saigon.

He said the captured pilot was Lt. Pham Phu Quoc and the other plane was piloted by Sub-Lt. Nguyen Van Cu.

The whereabouts of Cu and his plane was not known.

Diem left the palace for a scheduled field trip outside the city 45 minutes after the attack. He returned later in the day and moved from his damaged palace to nearby Gia Long Palace, used as a government guest house.

Casualties from the attack on the palace were not known immediately, but several wounded palace guards were loaded into ambulances.

(In Washington, U. S. officials said first reports listed one dead and two hurt in the air assault on the cream and yellow palace. They said none of the 4,000 American military personnel and civilians in South Viet Nam were involved.)

Bad Weather Is Handicap to Men Clearing Roads

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, today said that adverse conditions due to storms and weather changes had hampered his work crews in meeting all request for assistance in various areas of the city, and he is giving priority to flood threat of cellars.

"Due to our inability to serve all complaints with dispatch," he said, "we ask the public to bear with us under circumstances."

Saturday's storm he said, was a most difficult one for operators to manage because of the heavy water content. There was freezing and conditions resulting of wind. Moving of cars, he said, left windrows and plowing was made difficult. Due to icy conditions Sunday, he said, snow-loading equipment was damaged up-town.

Further trouble came Monday with heavy rain and rising temperature and there was flooding. All available men are now on snow removal with some opening catch basins and repairing holes on older streets. The latter condition, he noted is becoming almost citywide.

Crews continue operating in business areas, he said, during the day and after 11 p. m. and they will move along unless tied up by flood conditions. The department will attempt priority treatment in areas where flood conditions are most apt to threaten cellars.

Three Are Injured In Katrine Mishap

Three persons were injured Sunday at 4 p. m. when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a collision on County Road 41 at Lake Katrine.

Constable Norman W. Caunitz investigated and said today one car was operated by Miss Esther A. Schisa of Lake Katrine, director of public health nursing in the Ulster County Health Department and the other by Joseph Goldpaugh, about 18, of Ruby.

Caunitz said the collision occurred on icy pavement. He said

State Court of Claims Will Hold Special Term Here

As a result of action instituted by the Ulster County Bar Association last November, a special term for six weeks of the New York State Court of Claims will be held in Ulster County. At this term, which began Monday, will be presented claims for damages against the State of New York. The majority of the 69 cases called on Monday's calendar involve the appropriation of lands by the state for highway purposes in this locality.

While the majority of claims on the calendar arise out of the taking of lands for highway use in construction of the Kingston By-pass, Route 28 reconstruction in the Town of Shandaken area and other highway takings, any other type of claim against the state payable in the Court of Claims may be noticed.

Through the action of the Bar Association, which adopted a resolution seeking the convening of a special term of the court in Ulster County, many local litigants will be saved the inconvenience of traveling to Albany where the court customarily holds sessions.

Last November President Hugh R. Elwyn named as a committee Guido Napoleano, chairman, Surrogate Francis X. Tucker, Judge Raymond J. Mino, Louis DiDonna and Ward Ingalsbe Jr., a committee to take up the matter with Presiding Judge Fred A. Young of the Court of Claims and endeavor

Bakery Salesmen Still Out, Balk At $7.50 Slash

Forty-nine area route salesmen of the Krug Baking Co. of New York, did not report at the Poughkeepsie garage for work Monday or today, a company officer told The Freeman. The men terminated their work Saturday night.

Edward Moran, manager of the company's Poughkeepsie office, said representatives of Teamsters Local 550 and George W. Krug, president of the firm, negotiated Monday and again today at the central office in Jamaica, L. I., in an effort to come to some agreement.

Moran said seven management employees will remain at the Poughkeepsie office this week and next to collect credit accounts. Meanwhile, the Poughkeepsie branch of Krug's is closed for business, Moran said.

The Poughkeepsie manager said he understood the company will not continue the salesmen on the payrolls unless they accept a wage cut.

Anthony J. Delnato, shop steward of Local 550, said the cut which the union has refused to accept is $7.50 a week, and with commission losses would range from $500 to $700 a year for salesmen.

Delnato said routemen expect to lose money on uncollected customer accounts in the area which includes Dutchess, Ulster, Greene, Orange and Sullivan counties. Delnato noted that the company allowance to salesmen is small compared with average customer credit losses.

Moran said Krug has suggested that the route salesmen own and operate their routes and sell Krug products. He added "We hope something can be done to get the men back on the road in a week."

Back in 1958, Moran recalled, the firm was struck for 10 days and at that time the firm's president "gave a bonus of $7.50 a week and one per cent commission." Krug has now asked the men to take a cut of that amount weekly. Moran emphasized that the $7.50 was not an increase in pay.

Delnato confirmed that there has been some consideration among the union members of resuming merchandising with existing customers on a union basis, independent of Krug Co. He said that he understands they can get merchandise if a merchandizing plan is agreeable.

Jet Pilot's Body

at the edge of a wood Monday night by a ground search party. Earlier, a helicopter had spotted a yellow life raft on the ground, which led to the discovery of the body.

Dr. Charles Cole, Washington County coroner, said the pilot died of a skull fracture.

Evankovich, 31, was attached to the 76th Interceptor Squadron at Westover Air Force Base, Massachusetts, and was flying a training mission when the jet crashed. The search had been hampered first by a driving snowstorm over the weekend and later by freezing rain.

About 100 men, some using snow shoes, had battled up to 24 inches of snow looking for the flier.

Residents of this rural Upstate area turned over their town hall in nearby Center Cambridge as search headquarters.

Women contributed hundreds of sandwiches and gallons of coffee to the searchers.

The Air Force, meanwhile, finished excavating the crater dug by the plane. The debris will be sent to Westover for examination.

Evankovich's body will be returned to Westover, where his wife, Sandra, and their two children, Julie, 4, and Scott, 2, live. His home was in Murrayville, Pa.

Miss Schisa and a passenger in her car, Miss Ann Hayes of Lake Katrine, were treated at Benedictine Hospital. Miss Hayes remained for further treatment.

Goldpaugh received a cut lip.

Mills' Body

11, and Nancy 14, attend school in New Paltz.

Capt. Carl A. Lawson, commander of Troop C of the state police headed a detail of troopers from Lake Katrine Barracks with Lt. Robert D. Quick and F. J. Dwyer.

Sheriff Claude Bell with a detail of deputies was also at the scene.

The other two skin divers recovered Sunday were:

David Franklin Lasher, 27, of 192 Hurley Avenue, an employee of Shults Paint Company, and Jack Lepinski, 23, of Wakefield, Mich., with the U. S. Air Force, attending training classes at International Business Machines Corp., Kingston.

Mills, 48, of Clay Road, Ulster Park, was a TV serviceman for Mark's Sales and Service in Kingston.

Gerry Klemm, 27, of 34 Pine Street, the fourth man of the crew, who remained on the surface during the fatal exploratory dive Sunday, was discharged early today from Benedictine Hospital, where he had been taken for treatment of shock and exhaustion following his attempt to rescue the three divers caught in the mud slide.

Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh claimed the body of Lepinski and he will be returned to his home for services and burial Thursday.

Funeral services for Lasher will be held at First Baptist Church 8 o'clock tonight. Private committal services will be at Wiltwyck Cemetery on Wednesday.

Urban Renewal

ordinance in effect, or whether the committee will propose legislation designating two-way traffic. He proposed consulting both the police and fire chiefs and merchants involved.

Permits Continuance

Last night's action on urban renewal permits the city to continue with a $94,350 federal grant to advance plans and surveys for the Broadway East project. First planning by Raymond & May Associates, planning consultants, progressed under a federal allotment of $48,868. Under the comprehensive development plan was completed last year.

After previously legislating to support Alderman Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sixth Ward in the belief that he could vote for urban renewal, as a property owner in the downtown area involved, without conflict of interest, the aldermen were asked for further action last night to satisfy federal authorities.

The resolution adopted, differs from the other, in that it provides that sale of any of the alderman's property involved in a project area must be by condemnation proceedings. He cannot enter into any direct agreement with the city or officials involved.

A resolution adopted to gain more in per capita state aid, the mayor noted in a letter to the aldermen, was one prepared by the New York State Conference of Mayors, and endorsed by the mayor.

A main purpose, he said, was to gain the council's support in urging the 1962 state legislature to provide a substantial income increase in the amount of shared taxes returned to municipalities as provided in Section 54 of the State Finance Law.

Higher Costs Cited

The resolution cites the city's increased costs in retirement benefits, workmen's compensation insurance, volunteer firemen's benefit insurance, salaries of municipal employees, boosts in materials and equipment costs, and other increases.

Workmen's compensation costs have more than doubled since 1945, retirement benefit costs per employee have more than tripled since then, and wages of municipal employees have approximately doubled, the resolution noted.

Other increases and changes were cited, and it was noted that the cost of general government for both cities and villages increased from $84,916,800 in 1946 to $345,170,149 in 1960. Expenditures in the cities and villages, it noted went from $610,550,385 in 1946 to $1,586,875,548 in 1959.

The resolution provides that "The mayor be authorized to take such steps as may be deemed necessary to urge upon the legislative representatives the importance of this legislation for the City of Kingston." It also provided that copies be sent to State Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson.

Says Appraisal Obtained

Alderman Hastings, in dealing with the proposed Hasbrouck Park School project, said the special Common Council committee on schools and education has obtained an appraisal on the tract of land earmarked for the school.

The education board, he said, was supposed to get its own appraisal so that the two could be compared, but the committee has had no word from the board. The aldermen, he held, should not be held responsible for delays.

A recent inquiry from the board asked if home rule, or "enabling legislation" enacted last year by the state to permit the city to transfer park land for the purpose, was still effective. Hastings said Corporation Counsel Harry Gold had determined that no time limit is involved.

The meeting, as proposed by Alderman Hastings, was adjourned in the memory of the Ulster County Skin Divers, who died Sunday when they were trapped in a quarry near Whiteport.

Hastings, who heads a committee named to study the feasibility of using downtown caves as fallout shelters, noted that the divers had assisted the committee in determining the extent of a water supply source in the caves some time ago.

Msgr. Connelly Turns Earth at 2nd School Site

At the ground breaking ceremonies Saturday for the new $450,000 school building to supplement the present facilities of St. Joseph's parochial school, the first spadeful of earth was turned by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Stephen P. Connelly, rector of St. Joseph's Church.

That ceremony at Wall and Pearl Streets was followed by others present participating in the groundbreaking, including the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, pastor of St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster County Roman Catholic clergy.

Plans call for completion of the building in 1963.

Two Derailments

Three freight cars derailed Sunday at about 4 p. m. in the north yard of the New York Central Railroad, were replaced on the tracks Monday afternoon, a railroad spokesman said. He explained the derailment was due to ice and snow conditions. The front wheels of a diesel engine left the tracks at the Hasbrouck Avenue crossing Monday morning due to ice and snow, it was reported. The engine was put back on the rails and normal traffic resumed.

Tiano Recuperating At Woodstock Home

Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman, is recuperating at his Woodstock home after becoming ill over the weekend.

It is not known at this time when he will be able to resume his duties at the paper. Mrs. Tiano, his wife, said today that her husband's condition is just "about the same" as it was over the weekend.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my thanks to the many friends for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy, also for floral tributes and spiritual bouquets during my recent bereavement. Also thanks to the St. Mary's Rosary Society and Holy Name Society and CYO executive committee, for their prayers for my late wife, Mrs. Margaret E. Cabot.

Signed,

Ives Funeral Is Largely Attended In Norwich Today

NORWICH, N.Y. (AP)—Friends of former U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives gathered today to pay a final tribute to the man who left behind a rich legacy of respect of citizens and colleagues and legislation that bore his name.

Ives died Saturday in this small, Central New York community where he had lived for many years. His health failing, he had left the Senate in 1953 after two six-year terms.

A funeral service was scheduled for 2 p. m. in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church here. Burial will be in the cemetery at nearby Bainbridge where he was born 66 years ago.

Mourners at the funeral included a delegation from the State Legislature, in which Ives served for 16 years as an assemblyman. Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlini was a member of the delegation.

Ives was Assembly speaker in 1936. He was Republican majority leader for 10 years after that.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was unable to attend the funeral because of other commitments.

The U. S. Senate took time Monday to hear eulogies for Ives from both sides of the aisle. Ives was known generally as a liberal but was also considered a party regular.

Against Fluoridation

2 Elizabeth Street
Kingston, New York
February 20, 1962
Editor, The Freeman

I agree very much with Mrs. Slover that it is a very pathetic sight to see a youngster who suffers chronically with aching teeth. However, specialized individual treatment is in order for these cases and not mass treatment for those who do not require it. In fact, mass treatment could cause serious latent illness.

Sodium fluoride is one of the most deadly poisons known to man. There is no such thing as controlled doses, as some people consume more water than others, thus consuming more fluoride.

In my research, I have not been successful in finding the endorsement of fluoridation by the American Medical Association.

We must never forget the function of a public water supply is to provide pure, safe water for EVERYONE and not to serve as a vehicle for drugs.

If it is determined that the public water supply will be fluoridated, it would be unconstitutional, for this compulsory mass medication without justification.

I do agree with Mrs. Slover that it is an obligation of everyone of us to express our sentiments — pro and con — by writing to the Board of Water Commissioners.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) CELINE ARGULEWICZ

Lack of Interest Cancels Session On Dairy Records

The third meeting of the Dairy Records Workshop series scheduled to be held at New Paltz High School on March 1 has been canceled due to lack of interest in the topic.

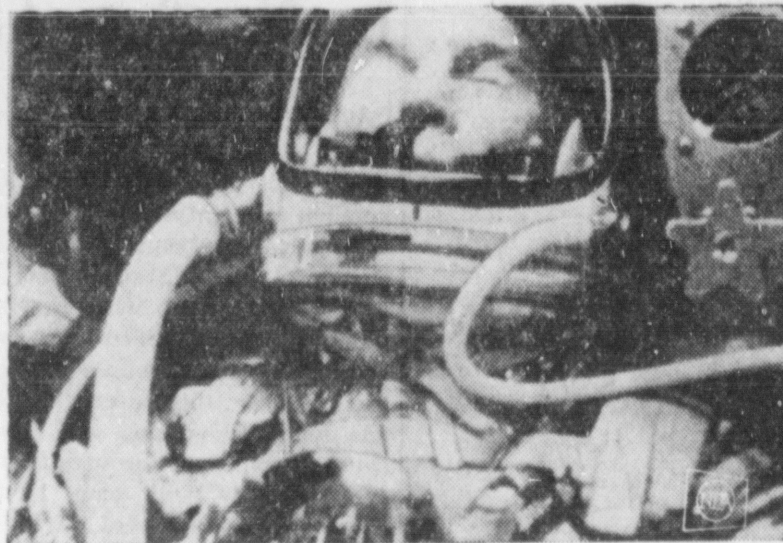

Robert D. Guzowich, Ulster associate county agent, however, reminds Ulster County dairymen of the Cooperative Orange-Ulster Dairy meeting at the Farm and Home Center, Wisner Avenue Extension in Middletown on Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 8 p. m. This meeting is in the Fair Grounds area.

Mastitis control in dairy heads will be discussed by Dr. Richard Guthrie of the New York State Veterinary College. Mastitis remains the most costly disease affecting the dairy industry today and there will be some important facts discussed at the Middletown meeting.

State Tax Man Will Be in City Starting March 22

Tax assistance stations are being set up throughout New York State to assist state income taxpayers in making out their returns. Joseph H. Murphy, Albany District state tax commissioner, has announced a deputy will be in Kingston at the Commission of Jurors' office in the Court House on Wall Street, from March 22 through April 16. In Catskill a deputy will be at the county clerk's office on March 21.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be few mourners when February departs. But in business circles there rarely are. About the kindest thing those in industry, transportation, trade or the stock market ever say about February is that it's uncertain.

And this year March promises to bring along a full bag of uncertainties, too.

Business Was Good

Yet, measured by any other yardstick than high hopes, January and February haven't been too bad at all for business—when ever a few days of respite were slipped into the prolonged string of foul weather.

Economists who are trying to decide if the economy is still going ahead at a respectable pace or has been slowed to a walk or worse may have to wait until some of the March uncertainties are resolved.

The chief one is in Pittsburgh where contract talks between steel labor and management are progressing — unusually pleasantly, if you believe one source, and haltingly, if you believe another.

Outlook for 1962

What terms are reached, and how soon, will tell a lot about the chances of 1962 still living up to the high hopes held for it last December in many quarters, chiefly official.

The steel talks could end with a modest wage boost and little or no price rise; or with a sizable price rise; or, worst of all, with a strike. Settlement could be reached quickly, nipping off the present tendency to build up stocks as a strike hedge; or it could be dragged out, setting off a real rush to stock up, that could only mean a big letdown later.

Future Is Uncertain

And until we know, it'll be hard to say what's ahead, since steel is still regarded by most of the public, at least, as basic to the economy, and its wage settlements as pattern-setting.

But meantime consumers have gone right on spending, when the weather lets them get to the stores. And factories in general have gone on producing at a good pace, if a little slower than in December. Consumers may be spending more of their money on services that some makers of appliances or builders of homes might like. But they are far from going on a strike. And the total amount they have to spend should get even larger when outdoor jobs open up again.

Work on 28 Cut Must Wait Until New Bridge Is Up

Excavation work on the cut for the relocation of Route 28 west of the new Route 209 by-pass has been held up pending installation of the new bridge over the by-pass, the state engineer's office said today.

Work on the cut by J. Arborio, Inc. of Poughkeepsie, general contractor, progressed rapidly through the winter months, but a halt was called until the bridge installation, since, the engineer's office explained, the remaining earth and stones is needed for fill where the present temporary road by-passes the construction and also for fill on Route 208 above Hurley Mountain Road where another curve will be straightened out.

The contractor has crews still busy on the bridge over the Esopus, but work on the by-pass bridge is not expected to be started until warmer weather. A spokesman explained that much piling remains to be driven there for bridge supports and work won't be started until the temperature, and the ground, warm up. He could make no estimate as to when the bridge would be completed.

Council Climate

NEW YORK (AP)—Plans and prospects for the coming Vatican Council in Rome later this year are analyzed in detail in a new book "The Ecumenical Council, the Church and Christendom," by Archbishop Lorenz Jaeger, of Paderborn, Germany, published by P. J. Kennedy & Sons. He says a universal longing for Christian unity sets the atmosphere for the council.

This is a Ford Fairlane interior. There's no other interior like it. It's as roomy as the interiors in most of the cars on the road today—yet it comes in a car that's an easy-to-handle foot shorter than big cars. Even more surprising: although a Fairlane is bigger than the compacts, it is priced under many of them. The fact is, you won't find any new car that gives you Fairlane's big-car room, V-8 zip, and fine-car quality anywhere near Fairlane's low price. There's never been a buy like Fairlane because there's never been a car like Fairlane; that's why this all-new car from Ford is outselling every other "new-size" car. Which is as it should be. After all, how can you beat an unbeatable combination!

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 27, 1962

SCIENCE-AGE MAN

President Kennedy is the second chief executive in a row to have a regular science adviser. But educators in this field are beginning to suggest that a President himself may one day profit greatly from a scientific-engineering background.

The theory, obvious enough in its general aspect, is that the impact of science and technology upon modern society is so tremendous that some personal mastery of these subjects must underlie any real grasp of major social, economic and political problems.

Developments in space, in nuclear fission, in electronics, in health research, have effects on the nation's make-up far beyond those originally conceived and intended. Sometimes these are foreseen, but often they are not even dreamed of.

To take an example in a field most of us do readily appreciate, engineers planning today's highways can no longer think of them just as roads to carry vehicular traffic.

With their elaborate interchanges and their general breadth, they alter the urban setting so markedly that they produce important social and other changes. They displace people, interrupt old established city functions. They cause some zones to wither, others to flower suddenly and uncontrollably.

Science educators today are saying that scientific-engineering training is thus not enough, that we need a more knowledgeable breed who can calculate the wider impact of an increasingly powerful technology and plan accordingly.

From this it is almost a logical progression to the notion that a man thus broadly trained may be valuable not only in the technical realm but as a teacher, a businessman, an editor, and, finally, a president of the United States.

One educator speculates that we may need a "conspicuous overproduction" of scientists, engineers and technicians to provide an overflow into other endeavors which are constantly more deeply affected by progress in these specialized fields.

Turn the matter around the other way and it makes perhaps even more sense that in this onrushing age our leadership should, more and more, have a technical grasp.

An official of the National Academy of Sciences reminds us that we no longer sit back and wait for science and technology to happen along with things to make life better and safer.

Pressed by the intense cold war struggle, caught in the rising complexities of space exploration and thermonuclear missile defense, we have begun to drive science to serve national needs and objectives. If it is to be sensibly harnessed to such aims, our leaders must understand it in some good measure.

The fuller their mastery, the more alert they may be to the unforeseen by-products of these narrowly oriented efforts. For instance, many technical marvels related to our space achievements may have unrealized usefulness in other phases of modern life. These remain untapped.

The day may come when a man's service at Cape Canaveral or Huntsville, Ala., may do as much for him politically as a war record does today.

HOMEODIES

Americans are always being hailed for their mobility. A favorite statistic: One in every five people moves every year. So how about a small word for the millions of immobile Americans?

Travel surveys by American Airlines suggest we may have been underestimating immobility in this country. These studies show that half the population, more than 90 millions, never take a trip of more than 200 miles.

Traffic commissioners probably would argue there is plenty of churning around within that 200-mile radius, and who will contest them?

The surveys did not discuss what keeps the 90-million anchored to a 200-mile zone.

THE GLENN TEAM

Now that we know that the Glenn Team consisted of at least 18,000 persons, scattered over the face of the Earth, we have some better understanding of the problems involved in astronautics. The entire machine is a complex of systems, involving enormous mathematical and physical knowledge and those who attend the various instruments must be trained to nervelessness so that their personal reactions do not produce instantaneous disaster.

We know that the astronaut is not a robot who sits in a cage controlled by buttons. We have heard him at work; we have listened to evidences of intelligent direction of his enterprise and we can witness that he has engaged in intelligent, articulate reporting of his work for permanent record. This was not a "push button" effort but rather the mobilization of intelligence and expertise in many fields and the disciplining of the human will to a selfless goal.

In a word, it is the mind and the spirit of man that still prevails and these enormous accomplishments in new scientific fields, dramatic as they are, come down to the simplicity of an organization chart and the selection of the personnel capable of split-second thinking and decisions that are based not on prejudice but on accurate scientific data.

But there is something more that has to be added—that is the spirit to serve, the subordination of oneself to the judgement of a team, the acceptance of the expert, a willingness to overcome private prejudices for the general good.

In our social system, the reward for labor is money compensation. When that reward is unsatisfactory, the laborer strikes. The astronaut receives a piddling monetary regard for his services and knows when he enters upon such a career that it is not money he is looking for; that his wife will not wear mink coats and that his children had better look about them for scholarships.

This is going to make a tremendous change in the outlook of a generation whose hero got $245 for the ride. The monetary compensation just does not count and those who stood at the various machines were sweating it out for the success of a rewardless enterprise. A few of their names and occupations come to us but not one will get a rich movie or TV contract or will sell his life story. This was a selfless contribution to the country and to human knowledge.

And that is important to emphasize because a tremendous social change is occurring in this land which cannot be ignored. While we are still complaining in many quarters that the government is impoverishing us by its brutal taxes, which is true, the young people of the country are mostly going in for public service, in the Army, Navy, Air Force, space, missiles, public health, nursing and a hundred other public occupations.

For years we objected to the employment of an enormous personnel by the government. But when we realize that the Glenn Team—one team—consisted of at least 18,000 persons, we have to adjust our thinking to the size of government employment as long as the government is engaged in these enterprises. It must mean that the number of persons to be employed by the government will increase and that they will be more expert from year to year.

The military forces will require more scientists of every type. The public has seen for itself how the scientists worked on the Glenn Team. We saw a little of it but it does not require much imagination to realize how much scientific knowledge has gone into every phase of the astronautic endeavor. Ambitious boys and girls will be wanting to enter such service not for the money return that it will bring but because it opens the door for increased study and for greater experience. In many fields, the best equipped laboratories will be government operated or attached to private enterprise companies almost exclusively engaged in government contracts.

Also, a new type of business firm that becomes important in this effort is an altogether different complex of productivity. As their names came over the air, they rang no familiar note. They are scientific firms and the men who manage them are scientists rather than salesmen. Their principal customer is the government. It takes them a year or two to produce a single item and then they are not sure that it will work. It's a new world.

Eating of Raw Meats
Is Dangerous Practice

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Can you settle a family argument of long duration? I am fond of raw steak sandwiches, usually called steak tartar. My wife insists they are unsafe and unhygienic. I've eaten them for years with nothing but enjoyment. What's your opinion?

A—Better listen to the little woman. The Public Health Service examined 400 specimens of raw beef and raw pork as purchased from retail meat markets. Some 4 per cent of the pork and 1 per cent of the beef specimens contained sufficient numbers of paratyphoid bacilli (salmonellae) to produce significant human infection.

Although unproven, the source of the salmonellae was thought to be food handlers somewhere along the line. Now, if you've eaten steak tartar with "nothing but enjoyment" over the years, you have been just lucky.

Some day you're going to run into a family of salmonellae who have your name and number in their appointment book. When that day comes, you'll wish you had listened.

Q—My daughter is to be married in a few months when her fiancé returns from overseas service. Because he is to be re-assigned to what may be a dangerous mission, she wants to take pills to prevent pregnancy. Are these pills safe?

A—In general the answer is "Yes." But there are these facts to be remembered: (1) They have been used too recently to learn of distant disturbance, both as regards mother and child; (2) Enlargements of pre-existent fibroid tumors of the uterus have been noted in quite a few women, but none have developed characteristics of malignancy; (3) In a few instances where the pills have been used unsuccessfully, female children have been born with male characteristics (heavy growth of body and facial hair, etc.); and (4) a fair per cent of women suffer from nausea.

These are the facts as I know them. I suggest that your daughter and her fiancé consider them and after consultation with their doctor and their religious adviser reach a decision best suited to their situation.

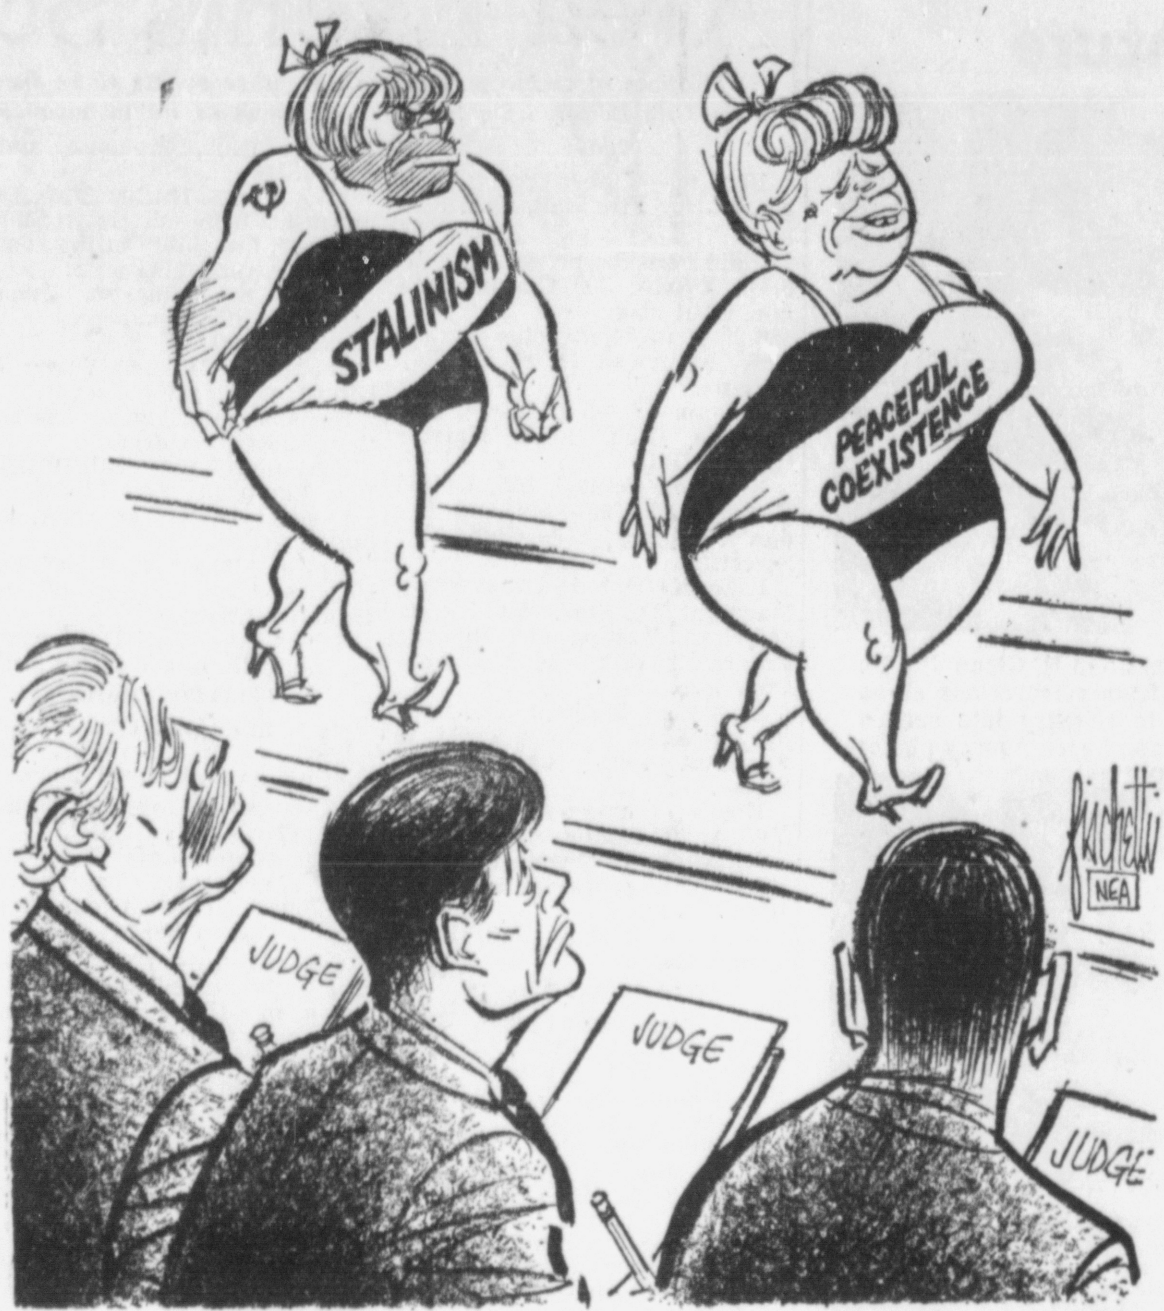

Q—Isn't it better to take insulin for diabetes than have to be bothered with diet?

A—No. And for the following reason. If insulin is given, either to a diabetic or a normal person, the cells that secrete insulin (beta cells of pancreatic islets) lie down on the job. In experimental animals, for example, they lose their granules and their reactive zinc, suggesting depression of functional activity.

In a way, it's the sort of reaction you'd notice in your leg muscles if you used a crutch or a wheel chair instead of standing on your own two feet and walking about. It is true that this depression disappears shortly after the insulin crutch is discarded, but it's the kind of monkeying with the machinery that no sensible physician would advise. So "bother with diet" for a while and pretty soon it will be like second nature.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — With another presidential message on health care for the aged going to Congress soon, a look at the Kerr-Mills Act medical care plans now in effect is in order.

When this controversial subject came before Congress in 1960 there were two approaches: One was the bill of Rep. Aime J. Forand, D-R.I., to handle the problem through Social Security. This was not unlike the proposal which President Kennedy sent to Congress a year ago, except that the Forand bill would have included coverage for surgical expenses, which the Kennedy plan leaves out.

In opposition to the Forand bill, President Eisenhower put forward a plan for federal-state assistance to all people 65 and over who had less than $2,500 a year fixed income.

THE HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE held 13 weeks of hearings on these conflicting proposals and finally came up with a compromise sponsored by Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark. Congress broadened the Eisenhower proposal to include people who had some income, but not enough to cover heavy medical expenses.

It provided nothing for people whose savings might be wiped out by catastrophic illness. The states were given authority to fix the rates and lengths of payments and handle the administration. The federal government pays half the costs in states that have below average per capita income the federal government pays more, up to 80 per cent of the total costs.

IF ALL THE STATES HAD ADOPTED the Kerr-Mills plan, it is estimated that federal and state costs of this program would be about $650 million a year. The big problem is state financing. West Virginia is already reported in trouble on keeping up its payments. If payments of states offering the lowest and shortest benefits were raised to a national average, total costs of the program would be about $1 billion a year.

This is only half of the story, for, so far, only 24 of the 50 states are operating under the Kerr-Mills bill.

Only four—Hawaii, Massachusetts, New York, North Dakota—offer five-point coverage of hospitalization, nursing home care, prescribed drugs, doctors and dentists services.

Georgia and Iowa have adopted plans but have no money to finance them. New Mexico withdrew its plans for lack of funds. Connecticut and Vermont have adopted plans but have not put them into effect. That leaves 21 states with no plan in force and no benefits being paid their oldsters.

Latest figures available — for November 1961 — shows that 71,653 people were receiving medical care benefits. The costs run $15 million a month or $180 million a year.

There are now 18 million Americans 65 and older. About 15 million of them are covered by the federal government Old Age and Survivors Insurance or Railroad Retirement Insurance plans, so they have some assured income.

Feb. 27, 1942—Civil Defense headquarters announced need of 250 persons for city hall control center duty.

Members of International Hod Carriers Building and Common Laborers Union, Local 147, asked the AFL for some "cleansing" action after complaints were filed against Local 17, Newburgh.

A Telemark skip jump at Rosendale was cancelled because of the lack of snow.

School teachers were due to assist in the March issuance of sugar rationing cards.

Feb. 27, 1952 — Rosendale moved to gain a direct road connection with the New York State Thruway.

A ruling of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, of this city, stating that a grand jury selected to investigate Saratoga gambling was illegally convened, was due for Appellate Division hearing March 5.

The Lions Club began preparing for its "Kingston Area on Parade" exhibit in April and the State Senate finance committee approved a bill to give state police personnel a $570 annual pay raise and to increase the basic starting salary from $1,380 to $2,000 a year.

The three million aged not covered and not on public assistance provide the big problem.

There is no accurate measure of how much unfilled need there is for medical services to the aged. One assumption frequently heard is that few people in America really needing medical care get turned away by doctors or hospitals. But how their bills are finally paid is not known. And how many people needing medical care postpone it, or get it at the sacrifice of their children's savings or grandchildren's education is unknown.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY sent his original program on health care for the aged to Congress a year ago. He insisted it was not "socialized medicine" but a program for prepayment of health care costs with free choice of doctor and hospital.

Last year the President's proposals were incorporated in legislation introduced by Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., and Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif. House Ways and Means Committee held two weeks of hearings on this King-Anderson bill in August. This legislation is still before Congress.

It will be summer before the Committee can take it up again, with any new ideas the President may have in his coming message.

Democratic leaders declare this is the most important domestic issue before Congress this year. And they want it passed as an achievement to present the voters in the November elections. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received a very pleasant letter from Albert Ten Eyck Gardner, associate curator of American Art, of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York City. Writing to this letter I see he wrote an essay on the Vanderlyn Panorama and it was published by the Metropolitan in 1956. I am trying to obtain a copy.

I feel in some way, some day, Vanderlyn will receive the publicity he deserves and then his paintings may be worth fabulous sums. Mr. Gardner sent me a list of the works of art by Vanderlyn at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Among the paintings by Vanderlyn are: "Portrait of the Artist"; "The Chumny of Apelles, portrait of John A. Sidel, portrait of Francis Lucas Waddell. The wife and child of Colonel Marinus Willett, panorama of the Palace and Gardens of Versailles.

Then he also mentions Egbert Benson (copy after Gilbert Stuart); Ariadne (copy after Vanderlyn by John Durand); General Moody Freeman (miniature portrait attributed to Vanderlyn).

Among the drawings by Vanderlyn, he lists portraits of: Sarah Russell Church, Elizabeth Church, Mrs. Edward Church, Edward Church, and the artist, which I take it to be a self portrait.

Vanderlyn, born Oct. 15, 1775, died Sept. 25, 1952 in Kingston and was buried in Wiltwyck Cemetery. John Vanderlyn designed the Village of Rondout charter seal and it was adopted in 1849. It contains the picture of the fort, at mouth of the Rondout Creek, reading "Guard the Gate" it was incorporated in the seal of Kingston City in 1872.

Anyone who has a rug or a carpet on the floor will enjoy at least looking at the magnificent pictures in a book called "Antique Rugs from the Near East" by Wilhelm von Bode and Ernst Kuhnelt printed in Berlin in 1958.

This book is in our Kingston City Library, through the courtesy of Charles Grant Ellis, who translated it from German. His talents do not end there, for he is in his own right, an expert in certain rugs, and I understand has added much of his own knowledge to the book.

There is a "Preface by the Translator" which is signed by him, and notes Kingston, N. Y. February 1958" at the end of the interesting chapter. This book, no doubt, is now in all the important libraries not only in this

New 'Court-Packing' Seen In Naming All Democrats

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has asked the American people to believe that, in nominating eighty-two new Federal judges, he couldn't find in the entire United States a single Republican lawyer who, in his judgment, was qualified to be on the list. By reason of legislation last year creating seventy-three additional judgeships and because of some existing vacancies, Mr. Kennedy will soon have filled nearly one-third of the entire Federal bench—more appointments than any President heretofore has had an opportunity to make in a single term.

The display of partisanship was the result of a recommendation by the President's brother, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, who managed the last Presidential campaign and who it now is being charged, awarded the judgeships on the basis of political considerations.

Another Democratic party leader, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, sought in 1937 to have the Supreme Court enlarged from nine to fifteen justices because, as he told the American people, some of the justices on the court at that time held views that didn't go along with his. He wanted a majority that would outvote those with whom he disagreed. The scheme became known as "court-packing," and was defeated in Congress.

"Court-packing" now, however, is back in vogue on a large scale. It is embarrassing for some Senators to oppose a partisan list of judges, because many of the nominations are made to curry favor with Senators who want friends or political associates named to the bench. Seventy Kennedy appointees have been confirmed already by the Senate, and probably the others will be accepted as a matter of routine. The fact that the Republicans have done this in the past does not justify it. Two wrongs do not make a right.

Report Made Public
It is significant that Bernard G. Segal, chairman of the Federal judiciary committee of the American Bar Association, has just made public a report filed with the Attorney General condemning the process by which 82 Democrats were selected for the Federal bench. Adding to these the three recess appointments of the preceding Administration, the qualifications of a total of 85 nominees were analyzed. The American Bar Association committee designated seven as "not qualified." Only 14 were designated as "exceptionally well qualified," while 23 were referred to as "qualified." The distinction between these classifications is one that is difficult to define, but apparently even mediocre nominees are frequently called "qualified."

Certainly the country is not getting the best qualified men or women to serve as Federal judges.

The big question is whether politically chosen judges will feel obligated to construe the law in ways that will carry out the policies of the Democratic administration. In these days of "government by executive order," the politically minded appointee can play politics on the bench. He may have been a good lawyer in private practice, but does this necessarily mean he will make an impartial judge?

In answer to criticism, Department of Justice officials are saying that they are merely doing what the Republican Administrations did in the past—appointing more judges from their own party. But Republicans declare that the Federal Judiciary was unbalanced, politically speaking, during the Democratic party's occupancy of the White House from 1933 to 1953, and that President Eisenhower, by his appointments, was able to bring about for the first time in many years an equal division on the bench between the two political parties. In other words, as Mr. Eisenhower filled vacancies with Republicans, he overcame the Democratic party advantage. Since an equal number of Republicans and Democrats was finally obtained in 1960, the argument is being made by Republican leaders that President Kennedy should have preserved the equal status instead of disturbing the balance once more.

2 Republicans Named
Besides the 82 Democrats nominated for the Federal bench and mentioned in the report of the American Bar Association, Mr. Kennedy named seven additional Democrats and one Liberal party member. Two Republicans already serving on the bench under recess appointments given them by the preceding Administration were re-appointed. So to date only two out of the total of 92 appointments are Republicans. By way of consolation, Department of Justice officials are saying that there will be "some" Republicans named in the next batch of 43 appointments. But nobody is saying how much is "some."

Why should any judge ever be appointed by the political process of recommendation by party brethren in Congress and by local politicians? Does this make for a judicial system of the highest integrity? Mr. Segal, of the American Bar Association committee, says wistfully in his report:

"We continue to strive and we continue to hope intermediately for bipartisanship, eventually for the ideal of nonpartisanship." One wonders why in these days, when the errors and immoral behavior of businesses or of some corporations or of private citizens become the subject of Congressional investigation, there is no uproar at all about the immorality that envelopes the scandalous method of selecting Federal judges in America. ### League of Women Voters Discussion Planned March 7

A presentation on the pros and cons of President Kennedy's proposed Trade Expansion Act of 1962 will be the highlight of the Woodstock League of Women Voters meeting to be held at 8 p. m. on March 7 at Deane's.

"Anyone interested in this subject is cordially invited to attend," states Mrs. R. C. Earnest, program chairman. "Our study group on Economic Diplomacy has gone to great lengths to insure that this will be a factual, informative presentation. The title of the program 'Trade Can Be Beautiful' indicates that it is going to be done in a very unusual way. It should be a particularly enjoyable meeting."

Lenten Schedule For St. Gregory's

The observance of the Lenten season at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, as announced by its vicar, the Rev. Lloyd Uyei, will include the following services:

Asch Wednesday, March 7, Holy Communion and Administration of Ashes at 7 and 10 a. m. Special children's service, 4:30 p. m.

Evening prayer followed by guest preachers each Thursday evening at 8 p. m., with exception of April 19, when service will be Holy Communion and sermon. This is Maundy Thursday.

March 8—The Rev. John P. Miner, vicar, St. Paul's Church, Pleasant Valley, N. Y.

March 15—The Rev. Harold L. Wright Jr., vicar, Church of the Resurrection, East Elmhurst, N. Y.

March 22—The Rev. Malcolm L. Foster, rector, St. Peter's Church, Peekskill, N. Y.

March 29—The Rev. William D. Jones, Fellow and Tutor, General Theological Seminary, New York.

April 5—The Rev. Richard G. Shepherd, rector, Trinity Church, Saugerties, N. Y.

April 12—The Venerable George F. Bratt, rector, of the Diocese of New York.

April 19—The Rev. Robert O. Weeks, chaplain, Institutions of Ramapo Convocation.

St. Gregory Women To Have Pot Roast

The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Gregory's will serve a pot roast dinner for the public in the new parish house of the church on the evening of Shrove Tuesday, March 6. The dinner will begin at 5:30 and will continue until all are served. This event will mark the first social occasion in the new building for all area residents and it is hoped many will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the attractive new parish house for a pleasant hour or so.

Mrs. Kendall Every is dinner chairman. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Hugh Martin and Mrs. Roy Kahmke.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Meeting

Mrs. Elsie Nicklaus, Noble Grand, presided at the regular meeting of Agapea Rebekah Lodge No. 623 last week at the Bearsville Lodge Hall. Regular business was transacted with Mrs. Nicklaus appointing the following committees:

Refreshment—Mrs. Mae Hung, Mrs. Claudia Haines and Mrs. Marcelle Holmzuer.

Sunshine—Mrs. Margaret Scholz, Shady Lake Hill and Willow; Mrs. Ellen Essig, Woodstock; Mrs. Elvina Wolven, Kingston; Mrs. West Hurley; Mrs. Olive Shultis, Bearsville and Wittenberg.

At the March 7 meeting, the Past Noble Grands will be honored.

A Valentine party was held after the meeting and refreshments were served by Misses Jeanne Pepper, Mrs. Marjorie Harder and Mrs. Ann Cousins.

World Day of Prayer Scheduled March 9

This year in Woodstock, the observance of the World Day of Prayer will be held in St. Gregory's at 2 p. m. on Friday, March 9. As residents know, this is the day when women of many Christian faiths throughout the world meet in prayer and meditation.

The service of the Litany will be by the Rev. Lloyd H. Uyei, St. Gregory's vicar. The Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, chaplain to the Convent of St. Anne's in Kingston, will give a meditation on prayer. Father Pottle was formerly professor of the New Testament and Greek at the Divinity School of Philadelphia.

The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Gregory's have chosen the date of Saturday, July 14, for an all-day fair. Further details will appear as plans develop.

Fletcher Martin Is Judge for Art Show

Fletcher Martin of Woodstock will be on the jury of selection for the 27th annual Regional Exhibition by Artists of the Upper Hudson, held at the Albany Institute of History and Art. The exhibition will open June 6 and be on the walls of the Institute galleries for one month.

Taxpayers Meeting

The Ontario Taxpayers Association, Town of Hurley, is looking forward to a large and spirited attendance at its next monthly meeting Wednesday, February 28th at the Glenford Fire House at 8 p. m. The guests for the evening will be the Town of Hurley Assessors. A question and answer session will follow.

Calls State Lax In Hospital for Narcotic Users

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. commissioner of narcotics says New York State has been lax in its efforts to establish a hospital for treatment of narcotic addicts.

In testimony made public today by a House appropriations subcommittee, Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger also criticized what he said are the state's weak laws to control narcotics.

New York, he told the subcommittee, has 21,813 known drug addicts or about 46.6 per cent of all known addicts in the United States.

Anslinger said about 99.9 per cent of New York's addicts are in the New York City metropolitan area and the remainder mainly in Buffalo.

The situation in Buffalo, he added, is now good because the federal narcotics agent there and the Buffalo police have established a narcotics squad "and they have kept it pretty well under control."

But, Anslinger said, New York City is the center of the narcotics traffic, the center of distribution, the center of the deals and the center of addiction.

Despite this, Anslinger said, the state has taken no action to strengthen its narcotic laws.

"They have had one legislative inquiry after another," he said. "I have appeared before many of them and after they make their reports no action is taken. And their laws need to be revised."

Simmons Corner Guard Rail Nets Another Trailer

Simmons Corners at Barclay Heights, Saugerties, chalked up another tractor-trailer mishap Monday — the third reported traffic mishap here this year — in which the truck climbed the guard rail adjacent to the stone fence on the property of Saugerties Council, Knights of Columbus Hall, village police reported.

The driver, Roy G. Noyes, 51, of Englewood, N. J., was reported uninjured. Patrolman Jack Washburn said today.

Patrolman Washburn said the tractor-trailer owned by Automobile Transportation Inc., Mahwah, N. J., was proceeding north on Burt Street and approaching the sharp turn at Barclay Street when another trailer (unidentified) traveling south, made a wide turn forcing Noyes to bear far to the right on an unmarked portion of the highway. The car transporter went out of control and climbed the guard rail at the stone fence, police reported.

In another mishap Friday, a tractor-trailer upset when cargo in the truck shifted, the driver told Saugerties police.

On February 14, during the recent snow storm, two separate mishaps involving passenger vehicles were reported at Simmons Corners.

More than a dozen mishaps were reported last year. One on July 16 took the life of Frederick Schaffer of Windham, a former resident of Malden-on-Hudson.

Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce in an attempt to alleviate the traffic problem drafted a master highway plan and forwarded letters to the State Highway Department and Ulster County Highway Department, seeking the elimination of the sharp curve at Simmons Corner.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Improve-ment in the industrials gave an irregular stock market a slightly higher drift early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose .20 to 258.30 with industrials up .80, rails unchanged utilities off .10.

Selected gains of fractions to about a point emerged late in the morning from a virtually trendless list. The higher tone prevailed in dull trading.

Oils and chemicals moved moderately higher. Steels were barely ahead. Aircrafts were unchanged to lower. Utilities, nonferrous metals and rails were spotty.

Amerasia snapped back more than 3 points and MGM recouped 2 or more.

Public Is Invited to Hear Discussion on School System

Six discussion groups on various phases of the Kingston School system will highlight the Annual Education-Business Day program of Kingston City Schools, Consolidated, Wednesday at 8 p. m., in George Washington School. The public also is invited to take part in the program.

The meeting will open in the school auditorium with greetings from George W. Schneider, president of the Board of Education, followed by remarks from Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools.

Start at 8:15 p. m. The session, at 8:15 o'clock, will be broken up into six groups, each under the leadership of a member of the school board. These groups will meet in separate rooms and after an hour and 15 minutes of discussion, plus a question and answer period, all will return to the auditorium where recorders from each group will give a five-minute summary of what happened at their gatherings. This is being done, Dr. Soper advised, so those who want to attend more than one of the meetings will know what went on at each of the other sessions.

The first is Elementary Education on the topic, Reading in Our Schools and it will be held in the music room under the leadership of Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly. Her consultants include: elementary supervisors, Mrs. Marion Gregory and Thomas Guerriero, and Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal of School No. 7. The recorder will be Richard McCarthy of Radio Station WKNY.

Secondary Curriculum on the subject Our Schools, Grade 7-12, will be held in the library with Mrs. Edith Case Murphy as leader. Consultants will be M. Clifford Miller, principal of Kingston High School; Stephen Hyatt, principal of Myron J. Michael Junior High School and Miss Katherine Kirschbaum, guidance counselor at the high school. The recorder will be Maurice Hamilton of The Freeman.

The leader of the group discussing school finances in Room 219 will be David Kline and he will have as consultants, Franklin H. Hazard, assistant superintendent of schools; Charles Klotz, school system business manager and Mrs. Edna Morgan, principal account clerk and treasurer. The recorder will be Harry Thayer of Radio Station WGHQ.

To Discuss Services Special Services in Our Schools will be another of the topics under discussion. It will be held in the Home Economics Room with Bernard Singer as leader. Consultants will include: James Tobin, director of pupil personnel service; Jacob A. Nolfo, guidance counselor; Miss Kathleen Shurtler, school nurse supervisor; and Mrs. Constance Otteson, psychologist. The recorder will be Tony Bell of Radio Station WKNY.

The subject of Vocational Education will be considered in Room 217 with Andrew Gilday, leader. His consultants will be Michael Aronica, director of Vocational Education; Loryne Connick, head of business education and Raphael Klein, adult education director with Ira Warren of the Kingstonian as recorder.

The sixth group will take up the subject of Physical Education with Benson Krom, leader. Consultants will be Warren Kias, director of physical education; Mrs. Jeanne Ryan and Ronald Cole, physical education, elementary level; Albert Gruner and Miss Jane LaMonte, physical education in junior high. Willard Burke and Miss Mary Leach will talk on goals and practices in senior high school. The recorder will be John Warren of the Times Union.

Back to Auditorium At 9:30 p. m. all groups will return to the auditorium for summation of their meetings by the recorders, and refreshments in the cafeteria will conclude the meeting.

Advance registration slips were sent out last week to all businessmen by Al Kurtz, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, who anticipates a record turnout for the annual event. With the public welcomed, both school officials and the Chamber are hopeful of an attendance exceeding 150 persons.

Three Are Injured In Route 28 Crash

Three persons were injured—seriously—in a two-car traffic mishap Monday night on Route 28 in the Town of Woodstock, Kingston State police reported.

Troopers identified the injured in Kingston Hospital as Barbara Blau of Palenstown, reported in serious condition and suffering from a possible concussion fractured right wrist and laceration of the upper lip, and Louis Lloyd Bush, 21, of West Hurley, in good condition, suffering from a possible concussion.

Treated and released was Ernest Blau of Palenstown, suffering from possible concussion, troopers said. Troopers W. E. Weidemann and Donald Cole reported Bush, driving alone, was proceeding south on Route 28, skidded out of control into the northbound lanes and was in collision with the 1956 sedan of Peter Feltman, 41, of Kerhonkson. Barbara and Ernest Blau were passengers in the Feltman vehicle, troopers said.

The mishap occurred at 6:45 p. m.

Governor's Plan On New Buildings Before Session

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan to build state office buildings in New York City, Rochester, Utica and Binghamton without huge outlays of tax revenues for construction is before the Legislature.

Assembly Majority Leader George Ingalls introduced legislation Monday night that would authorize the commissioner of general services to contract with the State Employees' Retirement System and the State Teachers Retirement System for financing.

If the retirement systems, which have substantial capital for investment, approve the plan, they would construct the buildings and lease them to the state.

Rent from the state would reimburse the systems and the state eventually would gain title to the proposed buildings.

Report Algerian Organization of European settlers to overthrow the government. Thirty-seven persons were killed Monday and 49 wounded in Algerian cities. In Algiers alone 22 died.

The government seemed helpless to stop the killings, mostly of Moslems shot by European gunmen.

Authorities sent a battalion of infantry and three squadrons of Mobile Guardsmen—about 1,000 men—into the heart of Algiers Monday. Soldiers lined the Rue Michelet, a street of shops and cafes where Europeans strolled despite shots and speeding ambulances.

Wagner Predicts and a state assemblyman two years ago. They were the first Democrats elected countywide in Cayuga in 70 years.

Wagner said McKee, who attended Monday night's meeting, had assured leaders supporting him that, if he were elected state chairman, he would quickly name a committee to propose changes in the state committee rules "to make them more democratic along lines we have urged."

Party leaders from outside New York City who were listed as present at the state chairmanship meeting at Gracie Mansion were: John F. English, Nassau County; William F. Luddy, Westchester; Robert E. O'Brien, Monroe; Peter J. Crotty, Erie; Jack Conway, Oswego; Francis Souhan, Seneca; Donald McManus, Broome; and Leo C. Quinn, Robert Laffin and John J. O'Connell of Albany.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

Boilershop Operators Appeal to Our Greed

As an investment advisor, I'm asked all too often to give my opinion of a stock which has been peddled by a "boilershop" salesman.

In Street terminology, boilerships are outfits which push securities by means of very high pressure telephone salesmanship. Their method of operation is shrewdly planned and has changed little in the nearly 40 years I've spent in this business.

Initially, the prospect may be softened up with appealing literature, the purpose of which is to plant the name of a stock in his mind. Shortly afterwards, he gets a phone call—often long distance—from an unknown salesman who guarantees quick, exciting profits if he will hurry and buy some shares before they're all gone.

Viewed at arm's length, this fast-talking technique is obviously meant to deceive. Its main appeal is to greed—which is a very common trait in all of us.

Personally, I wouldn't touch one of these propositions under any circumstances. An oral guarantee that a stock will double or triple in a few weeks is worthless and is clearly ridiculous. You have to be very firm with the boilershop salesman and have to resist a lot of pressure. It isn't always easy. However, if you tell the man you aren't interested unless he puts his offer in writing, I doubt that you'll ever be bothered by him again.

Good stock-brokers and responsible investment advisors go to great lengths to build and maintain their reputations for fairness and honesty. They won't make any iron-clad guarantees regarding a stock's performance simply because they realize that there is absolutely nothing like a sure thing in the stock market.

Furthermore, don't assume that only novice investors are tripped up by boilershop methods. One of my earliest experiences was with the president of a large eastern bank who had bought 10,000 shares of a "hot" but worthless copper mine over the telephone and then wanted to know how to get his money back. In case you're interested, he didn't.

Two Are Given Suspended Terms

Two defendants were given suspended jail sentences in County court Monday afternoon when they entered pleas of guilty to petit larceny.

Following the business in open court County Judge Raymond J. Mino adjourned to chambers where several cases were disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute.

Robert Thomas Maloy, 20, of Port Jervis, and Clifford John Faust, 20, of Middletown, along with Harold Earl Brown, were charged with third degree burglary and petit larceny arising out of the taking of a 22 caliber rifle and a box of shells. Maloy and Faust changed former innocent pleas to guilty to petit larceny and were sentenced to a year in jail, sentence being suspended and they were placed on probation for the maximum period of one year.

Philip Slutsky appeared for Maloy and Charles Saccoman appeared as counsel for a Peekskill attorney who represented Faust. Both attorneys asked for leniency and pointed out that restitution had been made.

A burglary, third degree, and petit larceny charge against Henry Patrick Korte, 16, Brooklyn hitchhiker who attempted to break into the Edward Kirk store in Town of Saugerties, had his case adjourned to Feb. 28 at 2 p. m. on motion of his attorney Joseph Avis.

Jurors were excused from further service at the term. In excusing the jurors, Judge Mino remarked that there remained considerable business to be transacted but because of lack of facilities in the court house for trial work, it would be necessary to terminate the term since Supreme Court will be convened next week. Friday of this week the court chamber will be required for the March Regular special term of Supreme Court.

Judge Mino told the jurors to take that message home and urge fellow-residents to seek out their local legislators and point out the need for additional court room facilities and modern facilities for other county departments.

Dutchess Worker Stricken A 59-year-old Dutchess County Highway Department employee suffered a fatal heart attack Saturday after operating a county snowplow. Stephen A. Arata, of 85 Lent Street, Poughkeepsie, was shoveling snow from the sidewalk outside his home when he collapsed. Arata had been assigned to operate a snowplow between Rhinebeck and Poughkeepsie most of Saturday.

Bloomington Vols Set Spring Dance Saturday Evening

The traditional pre-Lenten spring dinner dance of Bloomington Fire Company will be held Saturday night at The Alpine Restaurant, just off Route 32 at DeWitt Lake. The supper will be served buffet style with the serving time set for 7:30 p. m. Music for dancing or relaxation will be provided by the Ambassadors. The public is most cordially invited.

Joseph Hafner is the chairman of the affair and is being aided by William von Ohlen, Howard Slover, Leslie Ivory, John Markle and Charles Peterson. Reservations may currently be made or information obtained at either the Alpine or Reilly's Store, Bloomington or from any Bloomington volunteer.

Herman Miller, secretary announced that the regular meeting of the Volunteer Firemen's Association, Township of Rosendale, will be held Tuesday evening at Cottekill Firehouse.

Among the business items to be discussed will be the association's coming bazaar to be held on the grounds of St. Peter's Church, Rosendale on July 6 and 7. Also on the agenda is the regular township fire drill, conducted during February by Binnewater and the association's mutual aid plan. Meeting time is set for 8 p. m. and all volunteers from the member companies are invited to attend. The association's member companies are Bloomington, Binnewater, Cottekill, High Falls, Rosendale and Tilton.

Ann Gilchrist, president of the Bloomington Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary, recently announced that the auxiliary has made plans to extensively restock the dining facilities of the firehouse by the addition of five new banquet-size folding tables, new dinner plates, matching cups and saucers and dessert plates. She has also stated that memberships in the auxiliary are open and has urged interested ladies in the Bloomington fire district to join. Auxiliary meetings are held on the third Tuesday of every month at the firehouse.

John Yonnetti, president of Bloomington Fire Department Teen Age Association, recently reported that the Valentine's Day dance of the association was a smashing success. He stated that the next affair planned by the teen-agers for March will be a comical play with a cast composed of all association members. Title and date of presentation will be announced.

Proceeds of the play will be turned over to the Cerebral Palsy fund in honor of Christopher Brown of Bloomington. Young Christopher is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Brown. The Rev. Mr. Brown is the pastor of Bloomingdale Reformed Church and the chaplain of Bloomington Fire Company.

Yonnetti further stated that membership in the association is open to all teen-agers of the fire district between the ages of 13 and 19 inclusive. The association meets every Wednesday evening at the firehouse at 7 p. m. and the meeting is followed by refreshments and a social hour. Bloomington Fire District includes Bloomington, Eddyville, Whiteport, Creek Locks, Maple Hill and Route 32 North to the City line.

Ulster Sets Second Vols Training Class

The second session of volunteer firemen's training classes sponsored by Ulster Hose Company No. 5 will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the firehouse, Albany Avenue Extension.

Chief Joseph Senor invited all area firemen to attend, including those who would like to make up classes missed at other training sessions throughout the county.

The 12-week course is being conducted each Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the Ulster firehouse by Robert E. Fuhr of Stone Ridge.

The ninth session at Centerville Fire Company rooms on Route 212, Town of Saugerties is scheduled for Thursday 7:30 p. m.

Set Home Talent Variety Show at Samsonville Hall

The Home Talent Variety Show to be presented at Samsonville Church Hall Friday, at 7:30 p. m. will feature Jack and Alice Marquardt in "The Masters of the Mind."

This mystifying act will challenge the keenest observer. Also featured will be "The Pimpernel," a local trio of young men that have unusual talent in harmony; "The Mountaineers," with Bill Spanhake and Carleton Hoyt; "Dr. Kildare," in a riot of surgery; "The Blue Ribbon Quartette," comprised of two men and two girls; "The Harmony Trio," in captivating musical numbers; "Springtime in Samsonville," an original skit of truly mixed personalities.

The program will have many surprises to entertain the audience.

There are many outstanding vocal acts also on the program. No admission will be charged but a free-will offering for the church will be accepted.

Jacoby Bids Shows Kings

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand was played in a sectional tournament early last year. Every North player opened one diamond and all the South players had a problem.

Some settled for a three no-trump response and hoped that their partners either did not hold three aces or, if they held three aces, would be able to find a further bid. Others responded with a Blackwood four no-trump. Then when North bid five hearts to show two aces South would bid five spades, whereupon North would close the bidding at five no-trump. Unfortunately for these players five no-trump turned out to be one trick too high. Either a spade or a club opening would hold South to ten tricks.

The new gadget that I discussed yesterday would have enabled South to make his move and stop at a safe four no-trump.

How do you ask for kings with this convention? The next high-

Nationwide Puts Life Insurance Within the Reach of Every Family

Quantity Discounts, Bigger Dividends Help Lower Costs

Among Nationwide's most popular features are (a) "quantity discounts," which progressively lower premiums on each $1,000 of life insurance over $4,000, and (b) increased dividends.

In addition to early cash and loan values, young family men particularly like our Guaranteed Insurability Option. This assures the right to buy additional insurance later on, without medical examination, regardless of health.

Also available as optional extras are Double Indemnity, which doubles a policy's face amount in the event of accidental death, and Disability Waiver of Premium, which cancels premiums falling due after a policyholder has been disabled by accident or illness for six months.

With every Nationwide policy you have a broad selection of settlement options. Many of these allow benefits or cash values to be paid in a choice of annuity-type installments.

The above features, and many more, guarantee you extra value through flexibility that lets your life insurance keep up-to-date with your changing needs and plans.

Your Nationwide agent, a neighbor in your community, is always at your service. He'll review your insurance program with you regularly to make sure its provisions always match your requirements.

Outstanding Values In Business Life Insurance

More and more executives, too, are selecting Nationwide plans for their companies' business life insurance coverage—including key man, sole proprietorship, partnership, and close corporation insurance. Individual-policy pension trust plans are also offered.

Especially advantageous to businessmen is Nationwide's Executive Equity Plan, which features rapidly accumulating cash values resulting in minimum net cost to the purchaser.

A complete range of flexible, low-cost plans is also offered on a group basis, customarily combined with group health coverage in a complete employee benefit program, often partnered with a funded retirement or pension program. Featured among Nationwide's Group coverages are those especially designed for smaller organizations. Available in most states are: MINI-GROUP, a top-benefit plan for firms having 10-24 employees, and EFF (EMPLOYEE FAMILY PLAN), a "big company" employee-and-dependents program for groups as small as three.

Also noteworthy is our small-company Retirement Security Plan (RSP), which can provide stockholder-employees with up to $96,000 cash—or $670 per month—at retirement, with all rates and benefits guaranteed for life.

All Nationwide agents are authorized to offer business life insurance protection, and all are backed by experienced Nationwide technical specialists, both at the Home Office and in the field.

Every family now can afford enough life insurance—thanks to Nationwide. Even fathers who think they're "insurance poor" will benefit from a talk with a Nationwide agent. His skill and experience, his interest in serving you best, and his complete range of modern coverages, will mean more protection and added savings for you.

Nationwide Life Insurance Plans Are Designed to Meet Every Need

Whatever your age, earnings and family circumstances, your Nationwide agent will recommend the plan—or combination of plans—that will do the best job for you. Here are just a few of the new Nationwide coverages offered:

For Young Families

For young fathers with limited budgets there's the MODIFIED 3 TO 10 PLAN. Especially designed for the "getting started" years, it offers sharply reduced premiums during the plan's first 10 years. Later, regular premiums are offset by higher dividends and accumulated cash values.

Also for young families is Nationwide's FAMILY INCOME PLAN, which provides maximum protection during children's dependent years. Then, after the children are grown, your basic protection continues, but at a lower premium. Many families, too, prefer the savings offered by Nationwide's all-in-one FAMILY POLICY, which insures all the family in a single plan. Dad has the greatest protection, while Mom and the youngsters are insured for smaller amounts.

For New Homeowners

For the homeowner, there's the low-premium MORTGAGE PROTECTION plan. Its face amount decreases gradually year-by-year, along with your mortgage—but there's always enough insurance to cover your unpaid balance.

Your Nationwide man is also equipped with a full line of streamlined ORDINARY (or WHOLE) LIFE and ENDOWMENT plans, which provide permanent protection plus cash values you may use at retirement. He also offers a choice of low cost TERM (or TEMPORARY) insurance plans, which may be converted later to a permanent plan without medical examination.

Full details on all Nationwide plans are available through your local Nationwide agent. He has only one purpose: to provide you with the best protection at the lowest possible cost.

Your Nationwide Agent

Your neighborhood Nationwide representative is fully licensed under the insurance laws of your state. This means that his qualifications to serve you have been thoroughly examined and approved. In addition, his knowledge of life insurance and how it may best work for you is continually expanded through systematic training and refresher courses by Nationwide. Thus, you'll always find him a sound businessman and a valuable friend—and you may talk with him as you would your family doctor.

Progressive Organization Offers Complete New Choice Of Budget-Priced Policies

In keeping with its principle of providing the finest protection at the lowest possible cost, Nationwide Insurance recently streamlined its entire life insurance portfolio. The best features of standard policies have been retained, the range and scope of coverages broadened, new policies developed and set in a rate structure second to none within the insurance industry.

Greater Values and Savings

Result? Budget-conscious families can now buy more of the protection today's cost-of-living demands. Young fathers can now afford the insurance they need during the family's growing years.

Today, through Nationwide, you can choose a plan which matches your exact requirements and your resources. Whether it's maximum coverage at lowest cost, systematic savings at a guaranteed rate of interest, or a realistic combination of protection and savings, your Nationwide agent has a plan for you. Every family can now have the vital protection they need while they save for retirement.

Nationwide Widely Known As A Company That's Different

Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide's President, is often asked, "What's so different about Nationwide?" His reply usually begins, "Nothing much...if all you want is a company that collects premiums and has the resources to pay claims."

"But," he hastily adds, "if you're looking for something more—the satisfaction, say, of knowing that your premiums are buying insurance designed to protect real people rather than statistics...or if you think it's a healthy idea for policyholders to have a real voice in their company's operation—then Nationwide is different."

"This organization was started thirty-five years ago by people in search of low-cost insurance. We grew, expanded our coverages, were invited into neighboring states, because our kind of insurance was needed."

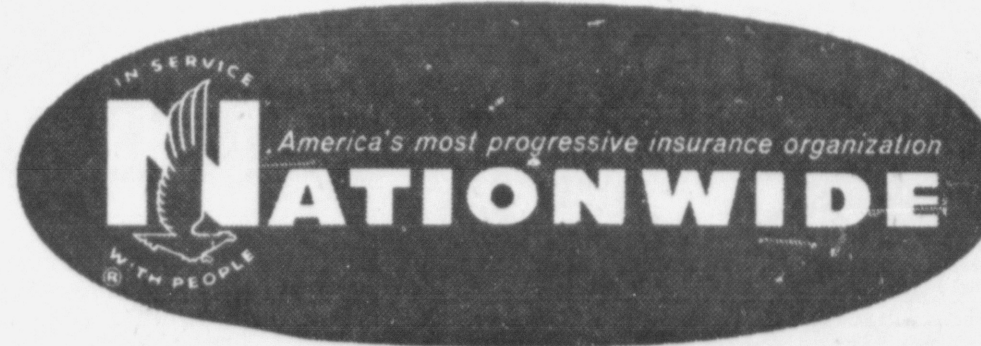

"Nationwide continues to build on the fundamental principle that whenever we're confronted with new problems, all of us, working together, can find new and better solutions to these problems."

Expert Assistance Available

Nationwide also offers you—at no charge or obligation—the professional services of highly trained, experienced insurance agents. Since your local Nationwide agent offers a complete range of insurance products, he can recommend the life insurance policy which best fits your total protection picture. He can provide you with a coordinated, all-around protection program, with no dangerous gaps or costly overlaps, no needless waste or extras...all at minimum cost!

For full details, call your nearest Nationwide representative. He's listed in the "Insurance" section of your Yellow Pages.

U. S. May Be in for Some Jolts

Russians Appear Overdue
On New Space Sensation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that the nation has honored astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.—and itself through him—it had better get ready for some fresh jolts to its ego.

Shot Boosted Morale
Glenn's journey gave the nation's morale a needed boost, since this country's prestige and self-confidence had been somewhat fractured by Soviet achievements in space. So his success was nationally shared.

It's a good bet new jolts will come from Russia which is still ahead in manned space shots, including Glenn's triple orbit.

The Russians not only put the first man into orbit, a once-around journey, but a second one went around 17 times.

It may be 1963 before the United States can orbit a man that often. This country hopes to fly five orbital missions this year, the last one to go the Russians one better with 18 orbits.

The United States has done better with satellites.

Although the Russians were the first to send a satellite around the earth—Sputnik I—this country has more than caught up with them in total numbers in the satellite field.

U.S. Collects More Data
So far the United States has sent 63 scientific satellites into earth orbit and three around the sun. The Russians have put 13 satellites into earth orbit, two around the sun, and hit the moon with another.

As a result this country has collected far more scientific information about what goes on in space than the Russians.

Still, that first Sputnik, the first man-shot, and the first moon-shot got more attention and propaganda mileage than the more useful and numerous American satellites.

Since the Russians' last manned space shot with Maj. Gherman S. Titov was last August—when he orbited 17 times—they seem overdue for another sensation.

And, because they're ahead, it seems likely they would hit the moon with a man before the United States can. The Russians, who like space spectacles, would score their biggest win a man on the moon.

Glenn Stimulates Nation
That Glenn has excited and stimulated the nation to greater efforts was clear from the extremely enthusiastic greeting given him by the President, Congress, the Supreme Court, and people lining the streets for Monday's big Washington welcome.

The two giants in this contest in space and national prestige could accomplish a lot more if they pooled their space efforts. President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev said pooling is a fine idea.

But both sides will have had time to build bicycle factories on the moon before they ever agree to cooperate if they have as much trouble agreeing on this as they have had on disarmament and nuclear testing.

Unions Adjourn
On Discord With Labor Secretary

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO midwinter meeting has adjourned on a note of disagreement with Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

Union President George Meany told a news conference at the end of the week long session that Goldberg's stand "seems to be that the federal government has the right to say what each side shall do" in collective bargaining activities.

Meany referred to a Chicago speech in which he said Goldberg advocated increasing the federal government's intervention role in labor disputes.

"The government's role should be confined to conciliation and mediation," Meany declared.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council at its final session Monday called on steel companies to "step up their social responsibilities" in negotiations for new contracts with workers. The council threw full support behind the United Steelworkers in their bargaining.

Meany accused the companies of stalling in the negotiations. There has been no progress since the talks began Feb. 14 in Pittsburgh, he told the news conference.

North Will Keep Guard Up
Both Sides Are Happy
Irish War Is Ending

By COLIN FROST

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Both sides of the Irish border welcomed today the underground Irish Republican Army's announcement that it had abandoned its terrorist war to unite the island. But Northern Ireland's government, target of the outlawed IRA's attacks, said it will keep its guard up.

The IRA declared its peace in copies of a statement slipped on to front counters of Dublin newspaper offices Monday night.

The 1,000-word statement said the IRA members had called a halt to five years of bombing and shooting attacks and had thrown away their arms.

The IRA admitted it had received little support from the Irish people and blamed public apathy on government muzzling of the press. It said the IRA would embark on a campaign to keep Ireland out of involvement in European alliances which it said might lead the country into war.

Called Good News
Charles Haughey, minister of justice of the Irish republic, called the IRA decision good news and said the underground's terrorism "was a policy which Irish public opinion had decisively rejected."

In Northern Ireland, which gives its allegiance to the British crown, Minister for Home Affairs Brian Faulkner said the IRA statement "is of course welcome." The tragedy is that these misguided people who have carried on a futile campaign for five years have taken so long to realize its hopelessness.

He added "until it is seen that the campaign is in fact ended, our own people can be assured that security precautions will be maintained."

Won Independence
The IRA is an underground descendant of the Irish revolutionary forces which won independence from Britain for the southern 26 counties between 1916 and 1922. The northern six counties remain part of the United Kingdom.

Since the IRA renewed its terrorism five years ago, scores have been killed in skirmishes on the northern border, bombings and ambushes. Security measures for an all-Ireland population of four million are estimated to have cost $42 million a year.

The republican government has kept 800 police in full-time operation against the IRA. Northern Ireland maintains strong border garrisons reinforced by troops from England.

Last fall's elections routed the IRA's political arm, the Sinn Fein party. Prime Minister Sean Lemass, who believes Irish unity can best be achieved through European unity, embarked on a determined campaign to crush the IRA.

Trinity Lutheran To Hold Supper Thursday Night
A parish covered dish fellowship supper will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets, Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

At this pre-Lenten social the Rev. Albert Schilke, DD, superintendent of Home Missions for the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England will be the guest speaker. He will interpret and report on the progress of organizing new Lutheran parishes on the territory of the synod, the latest of which took place in the area, at New Windsor.

Prior to his appointment as superintendent of Home Missions Dr. Schilke served parishes in Weathersfield and Norfolk, Conn., as well as in Canajoharie in upstate New York. While in Kingston, Dr. and Mrs. Schilke will be the house guests of the Rev. and Mrs. John H. Frensen, at 163 West Chestnut Street.

Massena Bank Head Charged With
FHA Violations; Other Indictments

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The Massena Bank and Trust Co. and its president were under federal indictment today on charges of issuing false statements in connection with Federal Housing Agency loans.

The indictment charged that, between August, 1957, and April, 1959, the bank granted seven FHA home-improvement loans that actually were used for other purposes.

The bank president is Clement J. Ward.

In other indictments returned in Federal District Court at Utica Monday:

Two men were accused of passing counterfeit $10 bills and a third man was charged with selling them the bogus bills.

Richard T. Gigantelli of Syracuse and Biagio (Blaise) Salerno of Mattydale, allegedly passed the bills in taverns in Syracuse and Liverpool between Jan. 13 and Jan. 16. The six-count indictment charged they passed $90 worth of bills.

Indicted for Selling
Joseph Mercurio of North Syracuse, was indicted on three counts of selling counterfeit bills to Gigantelli and Salerno.

Secret Service agents said they found hundreds of dollars in bogus $10s in the homes of the men. The three are free in bail.

Henry and Beatrice Cittadino, who have been convicted of operating a brothel in Utica, were accused of evading payment of the full income taxes due for 1955, 1956 and 1957.

Earned $113,369
The government said the couple declared earnings of $12,327 on joint returns and paid $2,417 for the three years while their actual earnings were $113,369.

Mr. and Mrs. Cittadino were among brothel operators indicted by a special grand jury that conducted a state-ordered investigation of vice and crime in Utica.

Cittadino was sentenced to a year in jail on the vice charge and Mrs. Cittadino received a suspended sentence.

Frank Witkecki of Auburn, was indicted on a charge of failure to file a return on $21,340 in earnings for 1955 and failure to report his full income for 1956 and 1957.

The government said Witkecki paid $4,774 in income taxes for the two years but actually owed $12,327.

Dominick Ferraioli of Schenectady was charged with paying only $1,649 of the $12,227 in income taxes he allegedly owed for the years 1955 through 1957.

Frank Martin of Schenectady, was accused of paying $818 in income taxes for the years 1955 through 1957 when he allegedly owed $26,463.

Hyman Heller of Liberty, was charged with paying $2,618 in income taxes for the years 1955 through 1958 but allegedly owed $23,569.

M. Thomas and Marion Mae Eissner of Newburgh, were accused of paying $12,347 in income taxes for the years 1955 through 1959 when they allegedly owed $70,972.

William E. Hess, retired sales manager of Allied Chemical Corp's Solvay Process Division at Syracuse, was charged with filing fraudulent tax returns over a three-year period.

Hess, 67, of Syracuse, retired in 1957. He was accused of filing joint returns with his wife showing a total income for 1955-57 of $35,902 when he allegedly made $56,404 during the period. The government said Hess paid $8,205 in taxes when he owed $14,444.

TALKING WITH VISITOR WHILE IRONING

Q: When a friend drops in unexpectedly to see me and I am in the midst of ironing, would it be rude to my visitor to continue ironing or must I put it aside until later and give my visitor my undivided attention?

A: You should put your ironing aside unless your visitor is a very good friend to whom you can say, "I simply have to get through this ironing before the children come home. Do you mind sitting there and talking with me while I finish it?"

Q: I ordered a leather billfold for my boy friend's birthday and had it monogrammed with his initials. When the clerk asked me what his initials were I told him J. H. B. (for John Henry Brown). When I went into pick up the billfold, I found it was marked J. large H. in the center and B. at the end. I told the manager that I thought the marking incorrect and that the large initial should have been that of his last name. He told me that I was wrong and refuses to do anything about it. I still think that I am right and would like a confirmation from you so that I can show it to him.

A: You are right: The large initial in the center is always that of the surname. To give this prominence to any other initial is incorrect and the owner of the store should certainly make good.

Q: One of the members of our club is married to a doctor and whenever she speaks of him, she always refers to him as Dr. John. Most of us resent this and think it in very bad taste. Will you please give us your opinion?

A: She should refer to him as John to intimate friends, "my husband" to acquaintances and Dr. Smith to his patients.

Designers Feminize Models at Paris Spring and Summer Fashion Showings

By GABRIELLE SMITH

PARIS (AP)—Women looked more like their feminine selves at the spring and summer Paris fashion showings.

Each designer seemed to feel a need to feminize his models, but each did it differently. This spring, whether you are tall or short, slim or not, you can wear what suits you like best and stay in style.

The only rule to follow is a short skirt, just below the knee.

Yves Saint-Laurent provided the fashion suspense this season. He opened his own house following two seasons underground after leaving Dior, where he had been chief designer. His look reached from Far West to Far East, giving girls cowboy hats and scarves for day, and Balinese cocktail outfits topped by turbans for evening. He even introduced the harem with his short at-home trousers.

Waists came back with wide leather belts, sometimes tight around the middle, sometimes

Small high bosoms reappeared for day in most collections, as at Balmain and Desse. Designers who kept a flat line tended to make up for it at night with low décolletage.

Skirts were made to walk in. Lanvin Castillo decreed against the "one-legged look" women had with straight narrow skirts. Ricci and Heim made skirts bell out in circles, and Saint-Laurent and Dior gave two versions of a straight-looking, easy skirt.

Details added femininity to designers' lines. Dior starred ruffles in organdy and gilt for cocktail and evening. Cardin used spiraling ridged tucks to mark midriffs, and applique flowers on strict suits.

Colors went from sun yellow to palest apricot. They were bright and clear in red and fuchsia, deep sky blue. Some models went strict with straight black and white, navy and brown.

Port Ewen P-TA Hears Discussion On Delinquency

A talk on juvenile delinquency by Arthur Brown, county investigator for Ulster County Sheriff's office featured the meeting of the Port Ewen Parent Teacher Association on Feb. 21.

Statistics show, said Brown, that delinquency begins at the age of 10, and he added that most of the child's attitudes are developed at home where the attitudes of parents, whether morally right or wrong are developed. "It is the responsibility of neighbors as well as parents to see that children obey laws," said Brown.

A Jenkins Award — life membership in the P-TA — was given to Mrs. Genevieve Tinnie at a surprise presentation. She is a registered nurse, a graduate of Saugerties High School and Kingston Hospital School of Nursing. She has been a Girl Scout leader, camp nurse at Camp Wendy, Cub Scout den mother, active in Boy Scouts and the P-TA.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Kirk, hospitality chairman and committee.

Troop 12 Boy Scout Drum & Bugle Corps or "Indians," as they are fast becoming known, gained National and Canadian recognition on February 21 in a feature article in Harvey Berish's "Parade World" column in the U. S.-Canadian Drum Corps News.

A photograph of the corps accompanied the article. In addition to a brief history of the corps, Berish listed Troop 12 as "the best Scout Drum Corps in the Empire State."

After reviewing the many honors already won by this corps, he predicted "They'll march on their way accumulating more honors to be sure—so those of you in the Hudson Valley keep an eye out for this up and coming unit."

Corps Director Ralph Shapiro said the corps is learning some new musical arrangements, and will shortly start working on a completely new marching and maneuvering routine in preparation for the next National Jamboree.

At present a few openings exist in the corps and auditions will take place Monday, March 5 between 7 and 9 p. m. at Bethany Hall of Old Dutch Church. Boys aged 11 to 17 wishing to become drum corps members are invited to attend.

To Protect Her

FULTONVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — An 8-year-old girl has been accidentally shot to death by her brother, who was attempting to protect her, State Police report. Deborah Jean Phillips was killed Monday night when struck in the stomach by the charge from a 12-gauge shotgun held by Clarence R. Phillips Jr., 11, police said.

Deborah, her younger sister, Carol Ann, and the brother were in the family home at Randall, near this Montgomery County community, when they heard a noise "like some animal."

Clarence grabbed the shotgun to protect his sisters and it discharged, troopers said.

Their parents were at a neighbor's house when the shooting occurred.

Ulster GOP Will Convene Tonight

A large attendance of members is anticipated at tonight's important meeting of the Town of Ulster Republican Club.

The meeting, scheduled for 8 o'clock, will be held at Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, president of the Ulster GOP organization, said several matters of importance will be discussed and added that a large attendance of members is vital in order to reach decisions on these matters.

Appearing as guest speaker at tonight's session will be Attorney Frederick H. Stang, former mayor of Kingston, who will present some facts of former President Abraham Lincoln.

Dues will be payable at tonight's meeting.

A social hour with refreshments will follow the business portion of the program.

Thomas Jefferson, secretary of state, was director of the first U. S. census in 1790.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Radio-TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Lind Hayes, a comedian by occupation and a philosopher by choice, believes audiences would enjoy television more if they went on viewing diets.

This is not likely to endear Hayes to the industry's executives or the sponsors. But Hayes feels that masses of viewers are suffering from a complaint he calls "too much pleasure."

"Americans are so satiated and are given so much, that we have started taking all these things for granted," he said. "I remember one period during World War II when I was overseas for eight months and never saw a radio and never heard any music. One day a captain let me borrow a radio set—and you'd never believe the joy and wonder in me when I heard music—music—coming out of that box. A little hunger is a wonderful thing."

Hayes and his wife—and partner, Mary Healy, have emerged slightly scarred from an ill-fated comedy series last season called "Peter Loves Mary." They had gone into it with high hopes they could achieve an extra degree of financial security if they could make it last two or three seasons.

"As it turned out," said Peter mournfully, "it was a complete waste of time."

Peter has gone back to night clubs and the theater, and Mary temporarily retired to look after their two children—but she's getting bored and I think she'll be back with me soon."

Peter will be bouncing back onto the home screens next Sunday in an NBC "musical documentary" (Hayes' phrase) called "Regards to George M. Cohan."

CBS is still tinkering with its next season schedule. It has extended the Red Skelton show from 30 minutes to a full hour on Tuesday nights, which knocks "Dobie Gillis" into the Wednesday evening schedule. Originally it was thought "Checkmate" would drop into Saturday night's lineup, but now the new Jackie Gleason show is to be moved there. "Checkmate" may just be canceled.

Recommended tonight: "The World of Sophia Loren," NBC, 7:30-8:30 (EST) — biographical special filmed abroad; "The Bob Hope Show," NBC, 9-10—with Jack Paar and Steve Allen as guest stars.

Baptists Put Off '62 Ladies Night

The annual Ladies' Night program of First Baptist Church Men's Club scheduled for Wednesday night, Feb. 28, has been postponed. Abraham D. Winchell, president, announced today.

Action was taken due to the sudden death of David Lasher, a member of the church and Men's Club.

President Winchell said a new date will be announced.

New Paltz Is Seeded Sixth In Basketball Tournament

Hawks to Play Brockport State In Thursday Tilt

New Paltz State has been seeded sixth for the sixth annual New York State College Basketball Tournament which opens Thursday at Cortland.

The Hawks will play third seeded Brockport State on Thursday, 4 o'clock. The tourney will open at two the same day with fourth seeded Albany State meeting Potsdam, seeded eighth in the field.

Oswego leads the eight team field while host team Cortland is seeded second. The host school is defending champion and three-time winner. Oswego has won twice.

Four games will be played each day in the three-day elimination tournament. The four losers of first day action will clash Friday afternoon. The winners will play on Friday night.

The Friday winners will play in the finals on Saturday night with the losers meeting in a preliminary contest for third place. There's also a losers bracket game on tap Saturday afternoon. Thus, each club will play three games in the tourney, regardless of whether it wins or loses.

This will mark the first time that New Paltz has taken part in the tournament and Coach Doug Sheppard is happy with the invitation. The Hawks finished their regular season with a 10-10 record but they were red hot during the second half of their schedule.

Eastern Division In ABL Is Close

While Kansas City seems intent on making a runaway of the American Basketball League's Western Division race, the battle for first place in the East has turned into a game of musical chairs.

Kansas City's Steers whipped San Francisco 124-113 Monday night to open up a commanding 6½-game cushion over the runner-up Saints.

The Chicago Majors, enjoying their trip to Hawaii, thrashed the Hawaii Chiefs 97-77 to break a three-way for first place in the Eastern Division. Chicago moved one-half game ahead of idle Pittsburgh and Cleveland with the three clubs taking turns at the top of the standings.

HOMEWORK—Judy Audsley, 17-year old Brunswick bowling star, who finished ninth in the recent BPAA tournament, produced this unusual scene between sessions. Since Judy is still a high school student in Kansas City, she took occasions like this one on the practice lane at the tournament in Miami Beach, to keep up with her studies. Her performance in the all-star tournament rest ranks with the greatest teen-age achievements in sports history.

Entry Is Second Largest Ever For Annual Event

A total of 2,508 teams, the second largest in history, will compete in the 29th annual championship tournament of the New York State Women's Bowling Assn. The tourney will begin Friday, March 23 with team events scheduled at Sangi's Bowlero and the doubles and singles at Ferraro's Bowl-rama.

The number of teams is about 150 short than the record, established last year when the tourney was held in Niagara Falls. At that time there were 2,682 teams, including 2,534 travelling teams.

There are also 4,044 doubles teams entered in this year's tournament, compared to 4,266 last year. The singles entry shows 8,088 as against 8,532 for 1960-61.

Best Representation

Syracuse will have the best representation at the Kingston tournament. A total of 271 teams have entered from the Salt City. Rochester is next with 228, followed by Buffalo with 181. Poughkeepsie and host city Kingston each have entered 110 teams.

The last time Kingston hosted the state tournament was in 1950 and there were 1,330 teams, 2,103 doubles and 4,206 singles entries. This city entered 59 regular teams and 36 non-member teams that year. There are no longer non-member division teams in the tourney.

After the opening on March 23, the tournament will continue weekends through May 27, with the exception of Easter weekend on Apr. 27.

Annual convention meetings will take place Saturday, Mar. 31 at Kingston High school and they will convene at 9 a. m. and 7 p. m. President Gladys M. Banker, Seneca Falls, will preside at the meetings.

Brooks Take 1st In Bridge Play

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Hyde Park, posted an excellent 63½ game to take top honors in the fractional point game of the Generie Bridge club recently.

Second place went to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peck, Woodland, with a 62½ game. Third went to Laszlo Sima, Woodstock and Harry Thayer, Kingston, with a 55½ game. Emil Jensen and Robert Smith, Poughkeepsie, were fourth with a 54½ game and fifth went to Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, and Milton Daskal, Kerhonkson, with a 53½ game.

Former Star Players

Bruhn, Culloton, Sahloff To Speak at OTBA Dinner

A trio of well known civic leaders, all former great baseball players, will be the guest speakers at the 12th annual Old Timers Baseball Association dinner Thursday at The Barn. The program is scheduled to start at 7 p. m.

Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn, former City Judge Bernard A. Culloton and Willard H. Sahloff are listed as the speakers. They will pay tribute to the three latest inductees into the OTBA Hall of Fame—George (Shikey) Balechowicz, Earl (Gabby) Benjamin and Charles J. Tiano.

Justice Bruhn is a former Kingston High and Union College player and he also saw service with the Kingston All-Stars and other great area diamond teams. He played in the infield. A practicing attorney, Justice Bruhn served as Ulster County District Attorney, and County Judge before being appointed to his present position.

Culloton is also a practicing attorney and he served as city judge for several years. He played with the old Ulster Academy team and also at Fordham University before advancing up the minor league chain to the Pittsburgh Pirates. A pitcher, arm trouble stopped his progress as a major league star.

Sahloff graduated from the University of Rutgers and, as is the case of the other two speakers, played with the Kingston All-Stars. He is a former vice president of Montgomery Ward and is now vice president of the General Electric Corp. He was also associated with Bamberger's.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from any member of the association. The dinner is open to the public and it's expected that the usual good crowd will be in attendance.

Houston Colts Have Trouble With Rain

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—The Houston Colts should have stayed home.

The National League club encountered 50-degree weather for its first full-squad workout Monday. It was about 30 degrees warmer in Houston.

Pitchers and catchers started work Feb. 16 and have missed three days because of rain. Usually damp Houston has received little rain this month.

Maris Inks 70G Pact For Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The skyrocketing New York Yankee payroll, highest in the major leagues, reached unprecedented heights today following the signing of Roger Maris to a $72,000 contract for 1962.

With four players earning $50,000 or better and 10 others receiving $20,000 or more, the Yankee payroll is a record $800,000. The mighty rajah, who hit 61 home runs in '61, for a one-season major league high, received a 36 per cent increase Monday. He was paid $37,500 last year, when he led the American League with 142 runs batted in, 366 total bases and was voted the Most Valuable Player for the second straight time.

The 28-year old left-handed slugger thus becomes the fourth highest salaried player in Yankee history. Joe DiMaggio drew $100,000 a season in 1950 and 1951. Babe Ruth was paid $80,000 a year in 1930 and 1931, and Mickey Vernon reportedly is getting $82,000 this season.

"This easily is the largest payroll in the history of the Yankee organization, or that of any other organization for that matter," said Roy Hamer, the Yankees' general manager. "We are happy to pay it. The Yankees enjoyed a good year in 1961—both financially and artistically—and the players were responsible. I hope we have an even better year in '62 and we will gladly pay the fellows accordingly."

"I'll take them as they come," he said. "I don't believe in counting my chickens before they are hatched."

O'Brien Is Retiring From Shot Putting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He has been hinting at it for some time and now Paddy O'Brien has made it official: He is retiring from shot putting.

The 30-year-old former University of Southern California weight man said Monday he is giving up the shot but will maintain his amateur status and throw the discus in several meets this year.

O'Brien formerly held the outdoor mark of 83 feet, 4 inches for the shot and did 63.5 only to have Bill Nieder do 65-10 the same year (1960). O'Brien still holds the recognized indoor mark, 63-1½, but Gary Gunber recently did 64-11½.

Bucks Have Big Edge In AP Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were some revisions in this week's edition of The Associated Press college basketball rankings, but Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes remained unchallenged as No. 1.

For the eleventh successive week the unbeaten Buckeyes were unanimous choices for the top, collecting the first-place votes on all 47 experts on AP's nationwide panel.

Kansas State advanced one notch, moving into third past Kentucky, and Utah supplanted Oregon State in tenth place. Oregon State was upset by Idaho last Friday night for its third straight loss. Voting was done on the basis of results through last Saturday.

Otherwise, rated teams held their positions.
Ohio State is the Big Ten champion, Bowling Green has wrapped up the Mid-American title and all eight of the other ranked squads are contending for major conference championships.

The rankings, based on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 tabulation with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (47) 470
2. Cincinnati 345
3. Kansas State 345
4. Kentucky 340
5. Mississippi State 273
6. Bradley 183
7. Bowling Green 165
8. Duke 121
9. Colorado 69
10. Utah 30

Clarkson Has Top Seeding In Hockey Play

BOSTON (AP)—Clarkson is the best college hockey team in the East—until proved otherwise, according to the selection committee for the first ECAC tournament.

The committee seeded Clarkson first for the opening round play March 6. Paul Mackesey, committee chairman and Brown University athletic director, announced the eight-team field and lineup Monday.

Clarkson (11-1) against eastern opponents will play host to eighth-seeded Providence (7-7-2), seventh-seeded Army (13-4) will be at second-seeded Harvard (15-2), sixth-seeded Boston College (12-10-1) will visit third-seeded St. Lawrence (9-3-1) and fifth-seeded RPI (10-4) will be at fourth-seeded Colby (16-1-1).

The semi-finals and finals will be held March 9-10 in the Boston Arena. The tournament champion is assured of an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament, according to Northeastern's Herb Gallagher, NCAA selection committee chairman and ECAC committee member.

If Harvard wins, however, there will be no automatic NCAA berth. The Crimson has gone on record as not wanting to participate in the NCAA tournament if invited.

The semi-final pairings will pit the Clarkson-Providence winner against the RPI-Colby winner and the Harvard-Army winner against the St. Lawrence-Boston College winner.

Sawyers Top Falls, 60-55 in DCSL Finale

Team to Compete In Section One Play Wednesday

Prepping for a Section One tourney on Wednesday, Saugerties High players won a 60-55 decision at Wappingers Falls yesterday to finish their regular season with a 13-5 record and a share of second place in the DCSL. Coach Bud Smith's club tied with Beacon for the runner-up spot.

With big Bill Schirmer showing the way, the visiting Sawyers overcame a 20-12 first period deficit and held slim edges at the other quarter stops.

New Record
Schirmer pulled 14 rebounds off the backboards to set a club record of 264 for an 18 game schedule. The previous mark was 243, set during 1956-57 by Austin Kerin.

Saugerties will compete in the Class B tournament and is slated to oppose Fox Lane of Mt. Kisco Wednesday, 7 p. m., at the Croton-Harmon High School gym. On the same card will be the Beacon-Horace Greeley contest, slated to start at 8:30. That winner of that game will play Roosevelt, the DCSL champion. If Saugerties wins its game, it will play against another opponent, not yet known.

The box score:

Phil Rodgers Nears Littler in Earnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Phil Rodgers, a young newcomer to professional golf's tournament trail, has edged a little closer to Gene Littler's top money winning position.

The winnings list, released by the Professional Golfers' Association shows Littler with $15,361 for the season. Rodgers ranks a strong second with $15,033. Arnold Palmer stands third with $12,425.

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME

The bubble gum war over baseball cards is no penny ante thing... with a $3 million annual business at stake, and possibly the future of the major league pension plan... because the FTC's case hinges on the fact that one shut-out company alone was willing to sweeten the players' pot by a quarter of a million the last three years... and with a few other companies getting into the act, who'd need a second All-Star Game?

Haven't the NBA teams laid off some of the kids caught in the stigma of the fix scandal, but apparently not deeply involved, because the D. A.'s office warned them there was more than met the eye? ... Mihaly (Mike) Igloi, the transplanted Hungarian who transforms humans into supermilks, told us what he had wrought with Jim Beatty, already the greatest distance runner this country has produced: "I make him shorten the step, not to swing the arms so much, to economize on his motions, to keep the head straight, to build the stamina... The speed he already has." ... After running the second fastest indoor mile in the New York A. C. meet (4:00.9), Jim confessed to us, "I was a little tired before I started."

And the NYAC should be forewarned that Jim, who has already retired one Baxter mile cup, intends to "lose" the silver tray on which he already has a leg... just in case somebody else should win it next year.

But for a peculiar high school eligibility rule, Texas could claim to be the preparatory ground of Cotton Nash, Kentucky's sophomore cager of the year... seems the Nash family first moved to the Lone Star State from Indiana, but Cotton would have been forced to skip a year of play, so Pop just moved the family across the border to Lake Charles La., while still working in Texas... Maybe all the movement affected Cotton because around Lexington no one recalls ever seeing him sit down... in practice or during a game.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rallying from the fix scandals in which three of its prominent cagers were involved—Frank Marowski, Vince Kumpson and Jack Egan—was supposed to have told the boys they can come back... after the heat blows off in a year or two... and pick up their diplomas... The hobby of Ron Delany, the Irish answer to Jim Beatty, is identifying people on planes and trains during his travels around the globe... according to nationality... and he finds the Irish the easiest of all to spot... "They either have a large button or emblem on their coats," he grins, "and a bunch of pencils and pens in the outside pocket."

What price height? Red Auerbach, the coach of the Boston Celtics, long reigning champs of pro basketball, insists that his current squad is the smallest in the NBA by a matter of inches... It is time to scotch the rumor that the Baltimore Colts might try to peddle Lenny Moore, the most dangerous halfback in pro football, because he supposedly goofed off and watched the season finale in San Francisco on the sidelines... "He got a head injury in Los Angeles the week before that," explained Colt owner Carroll Rosenbloom, "and should have been sent to the hospital right away... Instead it was Friday before he was thoroughly examined... and I want you to know that I gave the coach, the doctor and the general manager hell for the way the situation was handled... Lenny Moore is a fine back and a fine boy..."

One of baseball's all-time great pitchers, a Hall-of-Fame fixture, is on the relief rolls... Listen to Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox on most valuable players: "If you consider a player's value to his team, Jim Gentile was the MVP in the American League last year, not Maris... When Jim didn't hit, the Orioles didn't win..."

Between you 'n' me, basketball officials say the toughest call is no longer the traditional one of charging, but goaltending... "There are so many guys up around the rim," explains Norm Drucker of the NBA. "Even the 6-8 kids like Jerry West go a foot over it..."

Colavito, Cash, Cepeda Head List of Unsigned Ballplayers

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the Yankees have the M&M tandem neatly under contract, the major league signing spotlight can swing to C. C. & C. Roger Maris' decision to sign with the Yankees for $72,000 (joining Mickey Mantle, who long ago settled with pleasure for an $82,000 contract) left baseball with three key players to satisfy — Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito of the Detroit Tigers and Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants.

Ironically, each of the C's is included in the select company most think might challenge the record 61 home runs Maris clubbed last year to set himself up for the nearly 100 per cent raise he got from Yankee Gen. Mgr. Roy Hamey in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Monday.

Working Out
Both Cash, who led the American League in hitting with a .361 average, and Colavito, who crashed 45 homers and drove in 140 runs, are working out informally with the Tigers at their Lakeland, Fla., base. But Colavito particularly is being tough to deal with. "I've reached the saturation point with Colavito," said Rick Ferrell, the Tiger vice president who handles the salary negotiations. Ferrell said he has countered Colavito's rejections with three increases without reaching the figure Rocky has in mind. Colavito reportedly wants at least a $15,000 raise to $50,000.

Cash, who outit Maris by nearly 100 points, slugged 41 home runs and drove in 132 runs. Cepeda, who hit .311 and powered 46 home runs and drove in 142, wants the Giants to double his salary to $50,000.

Beside Maris, who will begin working out with the Yanks Wednesday, signers Monday included fiery Jim Piersall, for a Washington Senators; first baseman Joe Adcock and right-handers Bob Buhl with the Milwaukee Braves; infielder Billy Goodman with the Chicago White Sox; and outfielder Whitey Herzog with the Baltimore Orioles.

Proposal Would End Controversy Of Land Groups

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Legislature received today a plan designed to allocate the state's vast forest preserve to specific uses and end controversy between wilderness and recreational factions.

The plan, contained in a proposed constitutional amendment, would:

1. Classify 30 per cent of the 2 1/2 million acres of preserve as "remote and suitable for wilderness uses," such as foot and horse trails, and primitive open shelters.

2. Designate 10 per cent of the preserve, bordering on or near main roads, for outdoor recreation purposes. Mechanical amusement devices would be prohibited.

3. Classify the remaining 60 per cent in the Adirondacks and Catskills, for "in between uses, principally for the individual rather than for the crowd, such as hunting and fishing."

The sponsors of the resolution, Sen. Warren M. Anderson, R-Binghamton, and Assemblyman Richard J. Bartlett, R-Warren County, said their purpose was to perpetuate the basic constitutional safeguards around the preserve lands.

They said they also wanted to establish a sound framework within which could be provided broader recreation, improved conditions for wildlife in critical areas, and additional protection for wilderness areas.

The proposal would require passage by two successive legislatures, then approval by the voters. Two years ago, the voters approved a $75 million bond issue for acquisition of additional park and recreational land by the state and municipalities.

Gotham to Go All Out for Glenn Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—The package of gratitude this city will present John H. Glenn Jr. and his six fellow astronauts Thursday will include ticker tape, fireboat salutes and thousands of holidaying school kids.

These, plus the formal welcome of city fathers and the cheers of the city's millions, may add up to the greatest celebration of its type ever staged here, city officials said.

Lt. Col. Glenn, the Marine who accompanied the nation's first astronaut to orbit the globe, will be accompanied by his family—as will the six other American space-men.

Do-It-Yourself Home Builder Course Offered

I. D. Homes, Inc. will sponsor a course of instruction for the do-it-yourself home builder beginning Wednesday night, February 28, at the Island Dock Lumber, Inc., on Abel Street. Session will start at 7:30.

The course of instruction is open to all do-it-yourself builders who contemplate or are now in the process of erecting any pre-cut or manufactured home on the market. The course also will be offered without charge to anyone who in the future plans to do part of the work in constructing his home or will contract a part of the work out to sub-contractors.

Perishes in Fire

FONDA, N.Y. (AP) — George Gillis, a retired carpenter, died Monday night in a fire that heavily damaged his two-story, frame home at the rear of the Montgomery County Court House. He was 75.

Gillis' body was found under a kitchen sink. He lived alone.

Deputy sheriffs said the fire apparently originated in an oil heater.

Midwinter cold stung wide areas from the Rockies into northern sections of the Midwest today with some of the chilly air dipping southward into northern Texas.

Butte Registers -27

It was near 30 below zero in some parts of the eight states hit by the late winter cold snap—about three weeks before spring's arrival.

The sub-zero belt extended from Montana into Colorado, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota. It was an icy -28 in Huron, S. D., -27 in Butte, Mont., -26 in Bozeman, Mont., and Minot, N. D., and -24 in International Falls, Minn. Denver, with more snow, reported 9 below and it was 10 below in Minneapolis, Mason City, Iowa, and Worland, Wyo. Omaha's -6 tied the low mark for the date. The same mark was reported in Des Moines and North Platte, Neb.

The snow storm which hit the Midwest Sunday and Monday moved into the Northeast with falls of one to two inches during a six-hour period Monday night in New England. Snow flurries continued in the Great Lakes region and the upper Ohio Valley.

Southeast Very Warm

South of the snow and cold regions, warm moist air from the south collided with the Arctic air from the north, producing moderate to heavy thundershowers in Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and northern Mississippi. Unseasonably warm weather continued in most of the Southeast.

Light snow powdered areas in Utah and northern Arizona.

Temperatures dropped below freezing from New England through the Great Lakes southward into Oklahoma and northern Texas and northwest into the Pacific Northwest. The 40s and 50s prevailed along the Southwest border and the 60s and 70s along the Gulf Coast and in Florida.

Pa. Solons May Finish Wednesday

HARRISBURG (AP)—With budget making largely finished, the House planned today to make a move to wind up the 1962 session of the General Assembly Wednesday.

House Majority Leader Stephen McCann said the Rules Committee, which he heads, would approve a time and date for final adjournment later today.

The date—Feb. 28—already has been agreed to by the Democratic majority. The time will be decided at a meeting of House and Senate Democratic leaders during the day. The time probably will be late afternoon Wednesday.

The House agreed Monday night to Senate amendments in six of the remaining appropriations bills before the legislature—65 others already have gone to Gov. Lawrence. The House concurrence in the Senate revisions—all 72 appropriations bills originated in the House in early January—completed legislative action on Lawrence's $1,026,000,000 spending requests before the General Assembly.

Included in the six bills passed Monday was the $910 million general appropriation, the keystone of Lawrence's $1 billion general fund budget for 1962-63. This covers the day-to-day operations of government.

Man Dies of Burns Suffered February 11

A 31-year-old Lafayette man died Saturday at Albany Medical Center of burns suffered on Feb. 11 in a fire that destroyed his cottage. He was Donald F. Wendover.

Wendover had been removed from the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck to the Albany Hospital. A stepdaughter, Linda Wendover, 15, also was burned in the fire. She was treated at the Rhinebeck Hospital.

John Wisbauer, a Milan Fire Department second lieutenant, said Monday the origin of the fire has not been determined. He said it was possible a stove had exploded in the Route 199 residence.

Woodside Bows Out As Pa. Candidate; Bids Scott Do Same

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside has withdrawn as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in favor of Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, who was accepted by an "Old Guard" faction of the GOP as a compromise candidate.

In announcing his withdrawal Monday, the 57-year-old Woodside called on Sen. Hugh Scott, who entered the race to block the jurist, to "do the same if he is sincerely interested in party unity."

Scott, who reportedly was willing to accept Rep. William W. Scranton of Scranton as a compromise candidate, replied that he "had an open mind and would not state an objection to Congressman Van Zandt" but that he "would insist on consulting those I had promised to consult."

Scott, as recently as Sunday, had been quoted by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, Pennsylvania member of the Republican National Committee and a Scott backer, as saying he would not withdraw in favor of Van Zandt. Johnson told newsmen Sunday he had sent Van Zandt a telegram to this effect.

Van Zandt, who originally had been a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination but withdrew to run for the U.S. Senate on the Woodside ticket, said: "It is agreeable to me to become the Republican Party's candidate (for governor)."

Shell dealers suggest 7 things to try if your car won't start

ANY TIME you have trouble getting your engine going, the first thing to do is check the obvious.

For example, the fuel gauge. It's astonishing how often an empty fuel tank is all that keeps the engine from starting.

According to American Automobile Association figures, motorists run out of fuel more than 5,000 times per day.

If you have an automatic transmission, make sure your selector is in the correct position for starting.

Next step is to run through these seven tips from Shell dealers. Any one of them could help you get started.

1 Use the starter in short bursts. A long, steady grinding runs your battery down drastically. In fact, if the car won't start in the first few attempts, it's a good idea to wait several minutes before trying again. This lets the battery recover some of its life.

2 If you have a manual shift, keep the clutch pressed all the way down when you're starting. This helps to take some of the strain off the battery, particularly in cold weather.

NOTE: An engine in good mechanical condition should usually start in 3 or 4 seconds. Today's Super Shell gasoline can help. During coldest months, it contains an extra dose of Butane, a special quick-start ingredient.

3 Keep the battery connectors tight. If battery terminal connectors are loose, you may not get full battery voltage, when you try to start. With reduced voltage, the engine is harder to start. Sometimes the starter won't even turn the engine. It's easy to keep connectors tight.

All you need is a suitable wrench. Even a pair of pliers will do.

If you have repeated starting troubles, your battery may be weak. Your Shell dealer can recharge it—or install a new one if needed.

4 Get maximum value from your choke. If you have an automatic choke, give the accelerator pedal a tap before you start. This sets the choke in the correct position—the way it should be for easy starting. NOTE: A small choke adjustment can often cure cold weather starting troubles. Your Shell dealer can do it for you.

If you have a manual choke, remember to use it! When you pull the choke out, you increase the proportion of fuel in the air-fuel mixture. Could be all your engine needs for a start, especially on a cold morning. After you've started and warmed up, be sure to push the choke all the way back in.

5 Wipe moisture off the distributor, ignition leads and spark plugs. Condensed moisture—which can be a problem in cars left out overnight—could keep you from getting started. It's easy to find the distributor. Just follow the ignition leads—the wires that come from the spark plugs. They lead right to the distributor. Before you wipe the moisture away, make sure the ignition is turned off and nobody works the starter.

6 Turn off the lights, radio, heater, heater fan. This way there are no extra demands on the battery. It can devote its full power to starting the engine. NOTE: Don't forget to turn lights on again when you start up.

7 Never pump the accelerator if you suspect flooding. It only makes the flooding worse. Instead, try this: Wait 2 or 3 minutes. Then press the accelerator to the floor once and hold it there while the starter cranks the engine. When the engine does start, gradually let the accelerator return to idle position.

Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is Butane for quick starts. Butane is so eager to get going it could even boil on ice.
- #2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
- #4 is gum preventive to help keep carburetors clean inside.
- #5 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer" added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.
- #8 is Alkylate to help control "high-speed knock."
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2859212.
